Accident Injures Two LE Students

Two 16-year-old Logan Elm High School girls were injured in a single-car accident 4:09 p.m. Tuesday on the Circleville-Tarlton Road.

Laura May, 16, Route 1, is listed in fair condition at Riverside Hospital, Columbus, for a severe laceration to the left side of the forehead.

According to the report taken by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy James Deal, the auto went off the right berm of the road, swerving broadside through a fence.

The auto came to rest against a concrete culvert after rolling over twice.

Cheryl L. Hatfield, 16, 225 Pawnee Dr., passenger in the car, was treated and released at Berger Hospital, for multiple lacerations to her right hip, thigh, arm, wrist, and shoulder, head and neck injuries.

Women Said Fit For Space Duty

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Five weeks in bed and a pile of Playboy and Playgirl magazines later, eight Air Force nurses have been pronounced as physically fit for weightless space travel as men.

"There's no reason to think there's any inherent problem with women in space," Dr. David Winter, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's office of life sciences, said Tuesday. "There's no reason to think women are any better or any worse than men."

A spokesman for NASA said the experiment does not represent a commitment to add women to the U.S. space corps, but was only a test to determine the qualifications of women for space flight.

"The biggest thing we missed was male companionship — we're ready to go out and party," Lt. Lorraine C. Schoen, 25, of Larkspur, Calif., told newsmen at the NASA Ames Research Center here.

The women said they watched television, listened to music, knitted, crocheted, read and daydreamed about men as they spent their time in small, windowless rooms.

"We read Playboy and Playgirl magazines," laughed Capt. Evelyn Jean Parks, 32, of Seattle, Wash.

Twenty-two-year-old Paulette G. Mertz, Route 1, Ashville, is listed in good condition at Lockbourne Air Force Base Hospital, after she was injured in a single-car accident 11:46 p.m. Tuesday on the Circleville-Lockbourne Road.

The auto went off the side of the road hitting a large ditch landing on its tops. Ms. Mertz received multiple lacerations to the face, head, arms and possible internal injuries.

Sheriff's Deputy James Deal investigated the accident.

Sheriff's Deputy Dan Dewey is still investigating a single car accident involving Milton Edwin Taylor, 42, Route 2, Orient.

Taylor was traveling northeast on the Mt. Sterling-Commercial Point Road when he failed to negotiate a curve.

She was among 12 young women who were involved in five weeks of preliminary tests to see how well females can withstand weightless space travel and gravitational stress.

The eight lay supine in bed to simulate weightlessness. Four nurses acting as a control group in the experiment were allowed to walk around.

The supine women were only permitted to elevate themselves on one elbow for eating. They were not permitted to lift their heads or to smoke. They were placed on a strict diet.

They were monitored every half hour for cardiac and circulatory changes, body temperature, blood chemistry and menstrual and hormonal changes.

Dr. Harold Sandler, head of the experiment team, said that in general the bedridden nurses were weaker after the experiment — than the nurses who were allowed to walk around — and showed a 50 per cent reduction in tolerances to various stresses.

"But the same is true of men astronauts," he added.

"My calves felt weak and I felt wobbly. It was like learning to walk again," said Lt. Schoen. "I felt emotionally drained from the isolation, but I would love to go into space."

said they would go home and wait. It appeared unlikely that a bill could be agreed to in either chamber today, or even this week.

The committee squabble concerned Gov. John Gilligan's proposal that would allow labor unions and other organizations to exceed a proposed $3,000 campaign contribution ceiling if the money came from individual donations of $10 or less.

Ed Hinton, director of the United Auto Workers' Community Action Council (CAP) in Columbus was on hand to defend the bill, and Republicans questioned him at length.

Rep. Charles E. Fry, R-75 Springfield, wanted to know if it weren't more democratic to allow individual members to earmark donations rather than have them spent by a union's, or other organization's, political action committee.

Hinton said he agreed "in principle, but in the stark realities of politics, it

Nixon Yields On Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon cancelled a speech tonight on Watergate, the White House explaining that he was busy today dealing with developments in the Middle East. That change in plans came while the House pressed ahead with its preliminary impeachment inquiry.

Although the President's startling decision to surrender the tapes to the courts appeared to blunt the day-old impeachment move, it didn't silence calls for a new special prosecutor. The head of the American Bar Association today called for a new, independent prosecutor to replace Archibald Cox, who was fired by Nixon.

The President had announced that he would address the nation by radio and television tonight, but he cancelled that speech and scheduled a new conference for 9 p.m. EDT Thursday.

The President spent the night at his mountaintop retreat at Camp David, Md., where he had been expected to work on a speech explaining his decision to capitulate to a federal appeals court ruling on the tapes. But instead he spent the evening on the telephone attempting to arrange a cease-fire in the Middle East War, Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said today.

Nixon returned to the White House this morning and planned to spend the remainder of the day on the Middle East situation, Warren said.

He said Nixon simply didn't have time to prepare the speech he had planned on the Watergate affair.

Meanwhile, today the House of Representatives continued a preliminary impeachment inquiry, begun just before Nixon's lawyers announced the tapes would be given to a federal judge.

House leaders said the probe would continue at least until the effects of Nixon's action become known.

It was clear, however, that initial reaction to the President's reversal was favorable.

"Thank God," said Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. "I'm glad it came to pass," said Democratic Chairman Robert Strauss.

Wall Street's Dow-Jones industrial average jumped 17 points in less than an hour on news of Nixon's decision.

It was a day of surprising events. Here is where things stood when the dust settled:

—U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica was scheduled soon to begin reviewing the nine tapes of Nixon's private conversations about the Watergate scandal. These are tapes that special prosecutor Archibald Cox had sought before he was fired.

Sirica will listen to them in private and decide what, if any, parts of them should be presented to a grand jury. They likely will become public this way only if presented as evidence at a trial.

—The Senate Watergate committee was back in court fighting its own separate, uphill battle for the tapes. Sirica had ruled that the committee, unlike Cox, had no legal authority to use the courts to get the tapes.

Children Attend Red Schoolhouse

WEST FARMINGTON, Maine (AP) — Children in this western Maine town are getting a taste of 19th Century education in a little red schoolhouse where generations of their forebears learned the three R's.

In an experiment timed to coincide with National Education Week, 18 children are taken each day from their modern classrooms to spend one day in the 120-year-old, single-classroom building.

The pupils, from grades one through six, trade their chrome and plastic desks for hard wooden benches, and their film training aids for an old slate and a chunk of white chalk.

And the step back into history extends even to lunches. The daily fare is a homemade bread cheese sandwich, slices of raw carrots, fresh milk, a gingerbread man and raisins.

"Education hasn't really changed that much basically," said Freda Kelley of nearby Vienna, who taught in similar one-room schools in Farmington for 16 years.

Mrs. Kelley retired from teaching three years ago but returned to the classroom to serve as school mistress during the week-long experiment. She is being aided by student teachers from the University of Maine.

"I was showing the children some factoring from an 1883 arithmetic book, and they told me that was the way they were learning it in school," she said. "In almost a hundred years, a lot of things have not changed."

She said that included the children, who are "just as interesting today as they always were."

Mrs. Kelley began her teaching career in 1934 as a $10-a-week instructor.

"We had to mix our own ink from powder then," she recalled. "And the school was heated by a wood stove. A janitor came in early and started the fire, but it was up to the teacher to keep it going through the day."

WALL STREET IS FULL OF BULLS, BEARS AND BUM STEERS

Previously, it appeared the committee had struck a deal with the White House and would settle for an edited transcript of the tapes, authenticated by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

But the panel appealed to the U.S. Circuit Court for full access, denied that it had made any deal not to continue the suit, and told Nixon there appeared to be confusion about the terms of the compromise agreement.

After that, and after Nixon gave in on the tapes Cox had sought, the White House withdrew its offer to the committee.

—Crucial questions remained unanswered about the future of the Justice Department's newly inherited inquiries into the Watergate and related matters. It wasn't known if prosecutors would be allowed to get any presidential tapes or papers besides those Nixon agreed to give Sirica.

Middle East Truce Flops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Israeli military command charged that the Egyptians launched a strong air and armored attack on the Suez front today even as U.N. truce observers headed for the battle lines to enforce the second attempt at a Middle East ceasefire.

The Egyptian counter-offensive was mounted to save Cairo's forces on the eastern bank of the Suez Canal from encirclement by Israeli tanks and troops doubling back from their penetration into Egypt west of the waterway, Tel Aviv claimed.

The reported fighting came only a few hours after Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan announced the new cease-fire in effect and seemed to be "working properly."

There was no immediate word from Cairo. But the Israeli claims of renewed combat appeared to jeopardize the already precarious truce, reiterated by the U.N. Security Council on Tuesday night after its first cease-fire collapsed in furious fighting.

The Israeli reports did not pinpoint the area of combat but indicated it was at the southern end of the canal near Suez city.

An earlier communique from Cairo claimed the Israelis tried to cut the main road to Cairo near Suez city "but our forces are preventing him by force from accomplishing his objective."

The Israelis said 15 Egyptian fighter planes were shot down in dogfights over the battleground.

The Israelis earlier said their invasion force had pushed south from its foothold midway up the canal, moving along the western bank of the canal past Suez city at the waterway's southern end in an attempt to cut off

Weather

Sunny and clear today, high upper 70s. Low tonight, low 50s. Sunny Thursday, high, low 80s. Zero per cent possibility of rain.

There also were reports that the staff of the special prosecution force was prepared to resign as a group.

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the decision to release the White House tapes would deflate congressional impeachment moves. Humphrey said he still favored a new special Watergate prosecutor, to be named either by Sirica or by Congress.

—Cox himself vowed to remain in Washington for the time being. "I know all citizens will be happy, as I know, that the President wisely chose to respect the rule of law," he said.

—Also in doubt was whether Nixon would supply tapes sought in the Vesco case. Former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans face trial in New York on charges interfering with a government investigation in return for a secret $200,000 campaign contribution from financier Robert L. Vesco.

the Egyptian 3rd Army on the eastern bank.

Egypt charged the Israelis made the gains by taking advantage of the first cease-fire attempt Monday and Tuesday nights.

Israeli spokesmen claimed their invasion tanks and artillery now dominate the main Egyptian supply routes from Cairo east to Ismailia and from Cairo southeast to Suez city.

Egypt, which called for the Security Council session that produced the second U.S.-Soviet truce proposal, did not formally announce its acceptance of the new cease-fire this morning.

But the head of the U.N. truce observers in Cairo, Col. Ake Bendrik of Sweden, confirmed that Egypt had accepted the 7 a.m. — 1 a.m. EDT — halt. He said he had transmitted the Egyptian acceptance to Israel and the truce was officially put into effect with the accord of both Suez adversaries.

Syria, which ignored the first cease-fire call, announced it also accepted the new truce, but on condition that Israel withdraw "from all Arab territories occupied in June 1967 and thereafter, and on the basis of guaranteeing the rights of the Palestinian people."

Syria's front with Israel—about 20 miles beyond the 1967 Golan Heights cease-fire lines — was reported calm a few hours after the truce went into effect.

A spokesman for the Egyptian army liaison with the U.N. truce observers said a 41-man force from Argentina, Austria, Chile, Finland, France, Ireland and Sweden left Cairo in three groups for their cease-fire posts along the Suez front.

It was not immediately known how the reported outburst of new fighting would affect their mission.

The Israeli state radio said earlier that Dayan had proposed the observers take the main roads from Cairo to Ismailia and Suez until they met the Israeli forces on the west bank of the canal.

U.S. Seeks Permanent Peace Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once the Sinai fighting stops, American and Soviet diplomatic efforts will be concentrated on finding a way to bring Israel and Egypt together to negotiate a lasting Middle East settlement.

Senior U.S. officials say Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev did not agree on either a forum or a formula during their Moscow meeting.

Instead, their efforts were directed toward ending the fighting. While they talked about a slowdown in current arms shipments, there was no decision to halt them over the long run.

Prodding Israel, Egypt and Jordan to the bargaining table has been probably the toughest problem in the 25-year search for a settlement.

Israel is skeptical of working through the United Nations where it has few friends. The United States has offered its "good offices," but Israel and the Arab states have been snarled in preconditions for negotiations.

A first cease-fire agreement was reached Monday and another was announced by the Israeli military command early today.

Meanwhile, Kissinger's preoccupation with the Middle East caused him to postpone, probably for weeks, the visit to China he was to have undertaken beginning today.

Squabble Marks Special Assembly Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A special session of the General Assembly to consider campaign financing reforms got off to a bad start Tuesday night with squabbling among members of a House subcommittee.

Cause of the brief flareup was the same disagreement that defeated a pre-session compromise effort last month by the Legislative Service Commission Committee, namely, how campaign contributions from labor unions should be handled.

But while the House State Government Committee bickered, other lawmakers decided to call it a day—or even a week—and wait until bills are ready before sitting down to serious legislating.

Six bills were submitted Tuesday. After the measures were introduced both chambers recessed while subcommittees began hearings on the proposals.

Labor unions traditionally have donated funds to Democrats and industry has donated to Republicans. Republicans favor the earmarking method.

John Hall, lobbyist for the Ohio Education Association, told the committee that to have each member designate a party or a candidate "just wouldn't be practical, and wouldn't work."

Gilligan's bill, and another just like it, were introduced in both houses, and a Republican proposal by Sen. Paul R. Matia, R-25 Westlake, also was offered in both chambers.

Separate proposals were offered in the House by Reps. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, and Don S. Maddux, D-

90, Lancaster. Election committees of the Senate and House held afternoon and evening hearings, but took no action.

House and Senate leaders said they planned to hold only skeleton sessions until a bill is ready for full floor consideration.

Most of the bills have similar provisions. Generally, they limit individual contributions and those by family units to $3,000 in any one election, require disclosure of all contributions above $10, require reporting of contributions and expenditures before and after an election, and fix amounts that may be spent for the various state, district, and local offices.

James Marsh, assistant secretary of state, was among witnesses who appeared before the Senate committee headed by Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — In sharp contrast to Tuesday's dramatic swings, the stock market drifted along today, with investors cautiously evaluating the domestic and international scene.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up over 2 points early in the day, had slid back to 965.98, down .53, by noon. The New York Stock Exchange index likewise fell to a noon level of 59.11, off .04. Big Board advances equaled declines in moderate trading.

"The market will not be an aggressive animal until the Mideast situation and the domestic political turmoil are cleared up somewhat," said Larry Wachtel of Bache & Co.

On the Amex, the market value index was down .27 at 107.72 as McCulloch Oil lead trading, unchanged at 7 3/4.

On the Big Board, most-active British Petroleum, up 3/4 at 14%, was helped by a 143,000-share block which moved at 14 1/2, up 1/4.

Muskie Supports Impeachment

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie Tuesday urged the House to begin impeachment proceedings against President Nixon, saying the idea of such action is less awesome than "the prospect of government lawlessness."

"When only one sure remedy remains against intolerable abuse of the people's liberty, we must use that remedy or renounce our claim to the history of freedom and the legal order that protected it and us," the Maine Democrat said.

In a speech prepared for Toledo University, Muskie said:

"It is possible that before that process ever culminates in a Senate trial, we might find other means of resolving our crisis. But while we search for those avenues of accommodation, we should use the instruments the Constitution provides to set limits on the conduct of the president"

Muskie, the 1968 Democratic vice-presidential nominee, said that in firing Watergate Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox, Nixon "canceled the commitment he had made to the whole country"

received a paper since. . ."

A detailed analysis of the problem indicates it stems from two sources.

First and foremost, boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 don't want to be newspaper carriers. They are part of the "now generation" and are not going to "waste" an hour or so after school delivering papers when they could be participating in an extra-curricular activity at school or watching television. "Besides," as several youngsters stated, "Mom (or Dad) gives me the money I need and I don't have to work."

Secondly, many carriers have been discouraged by the subscriber who either refuses to pay (there are many) or repeatedly asks "come back tomorrow to collect, I don't have any change."

In our opinion, the subscriber who cheats the carrier out of his earnings is "Carrier Enemy No. 1." These are the individuals who make it impossible for the youngster to make a profit. Known as the "little merchant" in the industry, these independent contractors have been buying newspapers at wholesale and retailing them to their customers for many years.

Successful businessmen across the country boast of how they "carried the daily when I was a kid," or "I bought my first bicycle with the money I earned from my paper route."

The carrier problem is ours, but we feel as though we should share it with you—our readers and parents of youngsters who just might want to tackle the responsibility of a business all his own.

Finally, we ask that subscribers get to know their carriers, become familiar with collection times and please don't ask him to "come back later." You may be contributing to the death of home newspaper delivery!

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A high pressure area east of Ohio, that has controlled the state's weather for several days, has begun to weaken.

The weakening low should allow a cold front to move east over the state by Friday. As the front approaches, southerly winds will increase, breaking up the stagnant air which has caused an air pollution advisory to be issued for Ohio.

Clear skies overnight allowed temperatures to drop into the 30s over parts of northwestern Ohio. At dawn readings ranged from 38 degrees at Toledo to 56 degrees at Mansfield. Most of the state reported readings in the 40s.

Early morning fog was general over the state, and sunny but hazy skies were expected the rest of the day. Readings were forecast to climb to the 70s across most of the state and the 80s in the south.

Clear skies are expected tonight with lows from the upper 40s to low 50s. Thursday will be generally sunny with highs again in the 70s and low 80s, but clouds will begin moving into northern Ohio toward evening.

2 Arrested In Shooting

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — A man and a woman were in custody today on charges of kidnapping the wife of a reported drug prosecution witness in Ohio and bringing her to the Chicago area where she was shot and left for dead.

George Cutler, 24, of Wheaton, and Diane Hurst, 23, of Hollis, Long Island, N.Y., were arrested on federal kidnapping charges Tuesday at Cutler's residence. Each was being held on $50,000 bond.

The FBI said Barbara Cubbon, 24, was abducted at gunpoint in a Toledo shopping center Oct. 19 and forced to drive to Illinois. She was shot in a parking lot in West Chicago and her assailants left her for dead.

She was shot three times in the head but was reported in good condition in a Maywood hospital.

Her husband Frank, 24, is reported to have testified before grand juries in Ohio and Arizona investigating drug dealers.

KIWANIS SPEAKER—Dr. Carlos B. Alvarez was the speaker at Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday. Introduced by John Litten, program chairman, Dr. Alvarez showed slides of Mexico where he lived most of his early life. Guests at the meeting included Russ Toole, Frank Welsh, Frank Hudson and Howard Hosler from Ashville Kiwanis Club; Bill Bradshaw, Sam McIlwaine and Helmut Welker. A 37-year perfect attendance pin was presented to Dwight Steele.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — In sharp contrast to Tuesday's dramatic swings, the stock market drifted along today, with investors cautiously evaluating the domestic and international scene.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up over 2 points early in the day, had slid back to 965.98, down .53, by noon. The New York Stock Exchange index likewise fell to a noon level of 59.11, off .04. Big Board advances equaled declines in moderate trading.

"The market will not be an aggressive animal until the Mideast situation and the domestic political turmoil are cleared up somewhat," said Larry Wachtel of Bache & Co.

On the Amex, the market value index was down .27 at 107.72 as McCulloch Oil lead trading, unchanged at 7 3/4.

On the Big Board, most-active British Petroleum, up 3/8 at 14 1/2, was helped by a 143,000-share block which moved at 14 1/2, up 1/4.

received a paper since. . ."

A detailed analysis of the problem indicates it stems from two sources.

First and foremost, boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 don't want to be newspaper carriers. They are part of the "now generation" and are not going to "waste" an hour or so after school delivering papers when they could be participating in an extra-curricular activity at school or watching television. "Besides," as several youngsters stated, "Mom (or Dad) gives me the money I need and I don't have to work."

Secondly, many carriers have been discouraged by the subscriber who either refuses to pay (there are many) or repeatedly asks "come back tomorrow to collect, I don't have any change."

In our opinion, the subscriber who cheats the carrier out of his earnings is "Carrier Enemy No. 1." These are the individuals who make it impossible for the youngster to make a profit. Known as the "little merchant" in the industry, these independent contractors have been buying newspapers at wholesale and retailing them to their customers for many years.

Successful businessmen across the country boast of how they "carried the daily when I was a kid," or "I bought my first bicycle with the money I earned from my paper route."

The carrier problem is ours, but we feel as though we should share it with you—our readers and parents of youngsters who just might want to tackle the responsibility of a business all his own.

Finally, we ask that subscribers get to know their carriers, become familiar with collection times and please don't ask him to "come back later." You may be contributing to the death of home newspaper delivery!

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A high pressure area east of Ohio, that has controlled the state's weather for several days, has begun to weaken.

The weakening low should allow a cold front to move east over the state by Friday. As the front approaches, southerly winds will increase, breaking up the stagnant air which has caused an air pollution advisory to be issued for Ohio.

Clear skies overnight allowed temperatures to drop into the 30s over parts of northwestern Ohio. At dawn readings ranged from 38 degrees at Toledo to 56 degrees at Mansfield. Most of the state reported readings in the 40s.

Early morning fog was general over the state, and sunny but hazy skies were expected the rest of the day. Readings were forecast to climb to the 70s across most of the state and the 80s in the south.

Clear skies are expected tonight with lows from the upper 40s to low 50s. Thursday will be generally sunny with highs again in the 70s and low 80s, but clouds will begin moving into northern Ohio toward evening.

2 Arrested In Shooting

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — A man and a woman were in custody today on charges of kidnapping the wife of a reported drug prosecution witness in Ohio and bringing her to the Chicago area where she was shot and left for dead.

George Cutler, 24, of Wheaton, and Diane Hurst, 23, of Hollis, Long Island, N.Y., were arrested on federal kidnapping charges Tuesday at Cutler's residence. Each was being held on $50,000 bond.

The FBI said Barbara Cubbon, 24, was abducted at gunpoint in a Toledo shopping center Oct. 19 and forced to drive to Illinois. She was shot in a parking lot in West Chicago and her assailants left her for dead.

She was shot three times in the head but was reported in good condition in a Maywood hospital.

Her husband Frank, 24, is reported to have testified before grand juries in Ohio and Arizona investigating drug dealers.

KIWANIS SPEAKER—Dr. Carlos B. Alvarez was the speaker at Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday. Introduced by John Litten, program chairman, Dr. Alvarez showed slides of Mexico where he lived most of his early life. Guests at the meeting included Russ Toole, Frank Welsh, Frank Hudson and Howard Hosler from Ashville Kiwanis Club; Bill Bradshaw, Sam McIlwaine and Helmut Welker. A 37-year perfect attendance pin was presented to Dwight Steele.

Way To Get Rid Of Waste

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The trouble with the professional environmentalists, with whom I seem to be embroiled over differences in emphasis, is that they don't keep abreast of what our big companies are doing to enable us to combine progress with clean and happy surroundings. Great things are stirring in the laboratories and on drawing boards, but the negativists, looking at only one side of the story, miss the total picture. For examples, I would have waited a dog's age to learn from an environmentalist that RCA has a fail-safe system for monitoring the Alaska pipeline, or that Dr. Armand Hammer's Occidental Oil Company has what it deems a workable method of turning garbage into oil, a method which it plans to test in the city of San Diego.

The environmentalists attack the whole idea of electric power consumption, which means that they have it in for General Electric, manufacturer for all those appliances that give us the leisure to enjoy the out-doors that the Sierra Club wants to preserve. It happens that if any company can help us combine productivity and leisure with the added boon of clean surroundings, it is big GE.

The solid, sensible Governor of Connecticut, Tom Meskill, knowing that people who are accustomed to a modern standard of living aren't going to give up such things as automobiles, newspapers, magazines, cans, bottles and the advantages of sterile packaging, all of which create waste, has turned to General Electric to give him a statewide Solid Waste Management Plan. Working with the Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection and enlisting the help of various utilities companies, GE put some thousands of man-days into studying the possibility of building ten reprocessing facilities at strategic points throughout the State. The first recovery plant, designed ultimately to handle 1,800 tons of refuse a day, will be under construction at Bridgeport by next year. This is beginning close to home, for GE is moving its corporate headquarters from New York City to Fairfield, a suburb of Bridgeport.

When the GE system is completed, with plants spotted all around the state at places determined by computer analysis of population density, the state hopes to recover 60 per cent of its refuse either as material or energy. Air pollution from waste disposal will be reduced by 70 per cent, and the land consumption required for garbage dumps will drop by 80 per cent.

If GE can help Connecticut, a heavily populated state, solve its solid waste disposal problems within ten years, it will set a pattern for the whole nation. But it will not dispose of the more difficult problem of ridding the air of pollutants from cars and factory chimney stacks.

I have often wondered why GE or United Aircraft, companies that make big jet engines, can't team up with some large engineering firm to provide a way for clearing the Los Angeles area of the smog that results from the millions of automobiles on the freeways. The idea would be to run a tunnel system through the mountains of the Sierra Madre to the north of the city. By using jet propulsion to force a continuous air current through the tunnel system, couldn't the Los Angeles smog be dissipated into empty desert air on the other side of the mountains?

I asked a GE man if my idea were entirely fanciful. He said he was in no position to estimate its possible cost. But in Europe they tunnel through the Alps, and an ex-GE man, John McCarty, the assistant to the president of Pepperdine University, a small Los Angeles college that believes in

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a marriage.

It weds man to his past, and there can be no divorce in that union. It is indissoluble.

Memory is the strongest link to life man has, and the most lasting. Only death, if anything, can dissolve it, and we are not even certain of that, for we know little about death.

Yet memory isn't a bondage or an uneasy servitude, but the most durable of our pleasures and the one that brings us the most solace across the years.

You have a pretty extensive chain of memory links yourself if you can look back and remember when —

You could buy a Hohner harmonica for a dime or, later, 25 cents, and become the musical genius of your neighborhood.

When you went to a doctor and told him you were feeling "poorly," like as not he'd say, "You ought to eat more — it'd do you good to fatten up." Fat people were thought then to have more resistance to disease than thin people.

Girls thought nothing of being engaged to a man six months or more to be certain he was the one they wanted to marry.

If a young society lady broke her engagement, she usually went on a tour of Europe to get over her disappointment. If she was poor, she just visited a relative for a while.

People expected as much benefit from a 50-cent bottle of Indian herbal tonic as they do from $25 worth of vitamin pills today.

Adolescence was that miserable period when you were too old to sit in the front rows at the movie any longer and too shy to ask a girl to sit with you in the back row, where the spooning couples sat.

If you wanted to purchase a spool of thread, you went to a business establishment called a dry goods store, where most of the salespeople were elderly ladies wearing long black skirts, high-buttoned shoes and starched white blouses. Dry goods stores seem to have gone the way of the dodo.

When grammar school kids played hooky, they rarely got into trouble because they were too young to hang out in the town pool hall and all they could do was to go swimming or fishing. Most people didn't know too much about sex — but enough to keep their mouths shut about it in public. Those were the days — remember?

Well, why not? That would cost money, too, but some way must be found to let Los Angeles keep its cars and at the same time breathe decent air.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A Brazilian airliner crashed into Rio de Janeiro's Guanabara Bay Tuesday and sank. Most of the passengers aboard swam to safety, airport authorities said.

According to authorities at Santos Dumont city airport, more than 20 persons were also plucked from the plane's fuselage before it sank after floating for 10 minutes.

The plane was a Japanese made Samurai with Rolls Royce engines, on a regular shuttle flight to the interior city of Belo Horizonte.

The number of passengers and crew aboard was not immediately available.

“Now then, what makes you feel that the company is smothering your individuality, badge number 3363?”

Speaking Of Your Health

I am 34 years old and I notice that I am developing wrinkles around my eyes.

What causes these "Crow's feet"? Can their progress be slowed down?

Mrs. T.H., Ohio

Dear Mrs. H.:

Day-to-day "microscopic" self-examination will always reveal "skin defects" that are not nearly so obvious to others. I point this out because so many women forget that even close observers do not concentrate on a wrinkle, a blemish or a scar, but rather on the total image that a person presents.

Far too many women become obsessed with skin changes that are insignificant. The result is that many women resort to expensive mail-order "Hormone" creams, gadgets, and other creations of enthusiastic manufacturers.

It is easy to fall prey to a very expensive cream rather than an inexpensive one, on the supposition that because it costs more, it will do more. There is no validity to this concept.

Many reasons have been given for the causes of wrinkles around the eyes. Absorption of underlying fat, loss of elasticity of the skin, years of grinning, overexposure to sunlight, of course, the normal process of aging, and even cigarette smoking have been listed as possible causes.

An interesting study made by three doctors in the United States Navy seems to throw more definitive light on the subject. They have concluded that overexposure to sunlight was one of the major reasons for the "crow's feet" wrinkles around the eyes.

However, although cigarette smoking is definitely related to cancer, heart disease, and circulatory problems, tobacco has been exonerated by this study as a possible cause of eye wrinkles.

Simple moisturizing creams and facial exercises can slow down the process of wrinkling of the skin.

It has been said, "Think pretty and you are pretty." This may be good advice for you.

I dread the fact that my 14-year-old twins will soon begin their football practice. The aches, the pains, the bumps will soon dominate our lives.

Is there really that much benefit to such strenuous exercise?

Mrs. J. E., N. J.

Dear Mrs. E.:

It is almost inevitable that football and other contact sports will lead to bruises and injuries.

The advantages of all sports, physically and emotionally, are acknowledged by physicians, educators, and psychologists.

The fear that arduous sports may result in injuries must not keep you from allowing your boys to participate. The psychological damage can become a more serious problem than the "aches and pains and bumps."

With proper slow conditioning, excellent equipment, safety helmets and other protective devices, the risks associated with these excellent sports are minimized.

Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — While businessmen and other citizens hardly know what to expect these days, there is one constant that can be depended upon: Somebody always will be conducting a survey.

They may be frivolous or serious, professional or amateurish, informative or inane. They take various names, such as study, report, forecast or poll. They may be entirely objective; they may be subtly suggestive.

Into the latter category you might be inclined to put a survey by the New York Stock Exchange, which found business economists quite bullish on stock prices in 1974.

In fact, said William Freund, 95 per cent of the economists who responded forecast rising prices and the remaining 5 per cent said they believed prices will remain level.

"Not a single vote was cast in expectation of a market decline next year," he said.

While businessmen and others were assimilating the optimistic outlook of the economists, a survey of another kind contains material for reflection.

The Nationwide Retail Census, conducted by the marketing research firm Audits & Surveys Inc., claimed that the number of retail outlets in the country dropped by more than 19,000 in the past year.

The loss, following a decline of 12,400 in 1972, reduced the number of stores to 1,657,000 and, significantly or not, brought the store-to-people ratio all the way to 125, meaning one store per 125 people.

Interpreting the findings, the company said "the trend to higher store-to-people ratios reflects the growing attraction of consumers to the convenience of one-stop shopping."

Food stores, a category that includes supermarkets, groceries, delicatessens and other outlets, suffered the greatest number of fatalities, with 8,200 units disappearing. Shoppers are entitled to know the ominous news that there are now only 280,700 food stores left.

Other findings tend to document what a lot of people had a hunch was happening:

—The number of discount department stores grew by 300 units to a total of about 5,300.

—The number of automotive service stations fell by 3,500 units to 215,900.

—Drive-in restaurants and carryouts continued to proliferate, rising by 1,600 units to 52,300 outlets, even though eating-drinking establishments suffered an over-all decline.

—About 500 bars and taverns disappeared, leaving 110,500.

One of the most popular types of survey, that of consumer buying intentions, also reflects some significant changes in business and attitudes:

Relatively few shoppers are optimistic about the immediate future, a condition that in the past caused people to postpone buying plans and save for the proverbial rainy day.

Now, however, they are torn between caution and fear—fear that if they don't buy today they'll have to pay more tomorrow.

Armco Sets Price Hike

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. Tuesday announced classification changes in cold rolled sheet metal that will result in a price increase averaging 2.3 per cent.

A company spokesman said the changes are comparable to those recently announced by Bethlehem Steel Corp. and will take effect Jan. 1.

The changes revise cold rolled classes A, B and C to Classes 1 and 2. The company said Class A will be replaced by Class 1, and that the current base price of $10.30 a hundredweight will remain in effect.

Cold rolled Class B will be discontinued. Cold rolled Class C will be replaced by Class 2, and the base price will go up 60 cents, to $9.80 a hundredweight, the company said.

The company said this increase would "more realistically" reflect the value of the product to the customer.

The average shower consumes 20 to 30 gallons of water while a tub bath uses 30 to 40.

Judge Backs Shield Law

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A reporter for the Newark Advocate does not have to answer questions about her confidential sources for a series of articles on a subdivision near here, a judge ruled Tuesday.

Licking County Common Pleas Court Judge Winston C. Allen ruled the reporter, Mary Hargrove, was protected by Ohio's shield law in refusing to answer three of 170 questions asked during a deposition hearing.

Allen said two other questions Mrs. Hargrove refused to answer were not relevant.

Mrs. Hargrove's series dealt with problems involving water and sewer systems in the subdivision.

The deposition hearing involved a suit challenging ownership of the systems, which is in court now.

"Now then, what makes you feel that the company is smothering your individuality, badge number 3363?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am 34 years old and I notice that I am developing wrinkles around my eyes.

What causes these "Crow's feet"? Can their progress be slowed down? Mrs. T.H., Ohio

Dear Mrs. H.:

Day-to-day "microscopic" self-examination will always reveal "skin defects" that are not nearly so obvious to others. I point this out because so many women forget that even close observers do not concentrate on a wrinkle, a blemish or a scar, but rather on the total image that a person presents.

Far too many women become obsessed with skin changes that are insignificant. The result is that many women resort to expensive mail-order "Hormone" creams, gadgets, and other creations of enthusiastic manufacturers.

It is easy to fall prey to a very expensive cream rather than an inexpensive one, on the supposition that because it costs more, it will do more. There is no validity to this concept.

Many reasons have been given for the causes of wrinkles around the eyes. Absorption of underlying fat, loss of elasticity of the skin, years of grimacing, overexposure to sunlight, of course, the normal process of aging, and even cigarette smoking have been listed as possible causes.

An interesting study made by three doctors in the United States Navy seems to throw more definitive light on the subject. They have concluded that overexposure to sunlight was one of the major reasons for the "crow's feet" wrinkles around the eyes.

However, although cigarette smoking is definitely related to cancer, heart disease, and circulatory problems, tobacco has been exonerated by this study as a possible cause of eye wrinkles.

Simple moisturizing creams and facial exercises can slow down the process of wrinkling of the skin.

It has been said, "Think pretty and you are pretty." This may be good advice for you.

I dread the fact that my 14-year-old twins will soon begin their football practice.

The aches, the pains, the bumps will soon dominate our lives.

Is there really that much benefit to such strenuous exercise?

Mrs. J. E., N. J.

Dear Mrs. E.:

It is almost inevitable that football and other contact sports will lead to bruises and injuries.

The advantages of all sports, physically and emotionally, are acknowledged by physicians, educators, and psychologists.

The fear that arduous sports may result in injuries must not keep you from allowing your boys to participate. The psychological damage can become a more serious problem than the "aches and pains and bumps."

With proper slow conditioning, excellent equipment, safety helmets and other protective devices, the risks associated with these excellent sports are minimized.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While businessmen and other citizens hardly know what to expect these days, there is one constant that can be depended upon: Somebody always will be conducting a survey.

They may be frivolous or serious, professional or amateurish, informative or inane. They take various names, such as study, report, forecast or poll. They may be entirely objective; they may be subtly suggestive.

Into the latter category you might be inclined to put a survey by the New York Stock Exchange, which found business economists quite bullish on stock prices in 1974.

In fact, said William Freund, 95 per cent of the economists who responded forecast rising prices and the remaining 5 per cent said they believed prices will remain level.

"Not a single vote was cast in expectation of a market decline next year," he said.

While businessmen and others were assimilating the optimistic outlook of the economists, a survey of another kind contains material for reflection.

The Nationwide Retail Census, conducted by the marketing research firm Audits & Surveys Inc., claimed that the number of retail outlets in the country dropped by more than 19,000 in the past year.

The loss, following a decline of 12,400 in 1972, reduced the number of stores to 1,657,000 and, significantly or not, brought the store-to-people ratio all the way to 125, meaning one store per 125 people.

Interpreting the findings, the company said "the trend to higher store-to-people ratios reflects the growing attraction of consumers to the convenience of one-stop shopping."

Food stores, a category that includes supermarkets, groceries, delicatessens and other outlets, suffered the greatest number of fatalities, with 8,200 units disappearing. Shoppers are entitled to know the ominous news that there are now only 280,700 food stores left.

Other findings tend to document what a lot of people had a hunch was happening:

—The number of discount department stores grew by 300 units to a total of about 5,300.

—The number of automotive service stations fell by 3,500 units to 215,900.

—Drive-in restaurants and carryouts continued to proliferate, rising by 1,600 units to 52,300 outlets, even though eating-drinking establishments suffered an over-all decline.

—About 500 bars and taverns disappeared, leaving 110,500.

One of the most popular types of survey, that of consumer buying intentions, also reflects some significant changes in business and attitudes:

Relatively few shoppers are optimistic about the immediate future, a condition that in the past caused people to postpone buying plans and save for the proverbial rainy day.

Now, however, they are torn between caution and fear—fear that if they don't buy today they'll have to pay more tomorrow.

Armco Sets Price Hike

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. Tuesday announced classification changes in cold rolled sheet metal that will result in a price increase averaging 2.3 per cent.

A company spokesman said the changes are comparable to those recently announced by Bethlehem Steel Corp. and will take effect Jan. 1.

The changes revise cold rolled classes A, B and C to Classes 1 and 2.

The company said Class A will be replaced by Class 1, and that the current base price of $10.30 a hundredweight will remain in effect.

Cold rolled Class B will be discontinued. Cold rolled Class C will be replaced by Class 2, and the base price will go up 60 cents, to $9.80 a hundredweight, the company said.

The company said this increase would "more realistically" reflect the value of the product to the customer.

The average shower consumes 20 to 30 gallons of water while a tub bath uses 30 to 40.

Family Taught Not To Fear Snakes

DEAR ABBY: Congratulations for standing up for the snake. I had a pet boa constrictor for many years and kept him until he became too big to feed, after which I gave him to the zoo. I have taught our children to differentiate between poisonous and nonpoisonous snakes and encouraged them to hold snakes in their hands so that this irrational fear of snakes did not occur in my family. Snakes eat rodents and insects, and are an important part of the balance of nature. If we had more snakes, we would need less dangerous pesticides. Sign me . . .

DEAR LAWYER: But we might lose a Roman Catholic priest. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Your defense of the much-maligned serpent was very thought-provoking, but there is another side to that story.

I am a Roman Catholic priest, and I have found that many otherwise quiet "normal" people suffer from herpetophobia the fear of snakes. It is no mere prejudice, biblical or otherwise, but actually a fear as deeply rooted and as difficult to treat as claustrophobia (fear of enclosure), acrophobia (fear of heights), or any other phobia.

Most herpetophobes will readily agree that their fear is entirely irrational, but that makes it no less real.

Some herpetophobes nearly have heart failure just coming upon a picture of a snake in a magazine. I know, I am one of them, and have been since before I even knew there was a Bible. I have no idea why I am this way, but I do know that if anyone tries to bring a snake into this rectory, I'm leaving!

A HERPETOPHOBIC PRIEST

P.S. One fear I do not have is signing my name to Letters-to-the Editor and the like, but this is one instance where prudence may dictate an exception. I will sign it, but please don't use my name in your column. There are too many clowns around here for comfort.

DEAR ABBY: I am a fairly attractive widow, living on what is laughingly called "widow's row."

I have been completely captivated by a retired Marine officer who lives next door to me. He is a widower and everything a woman could want in a man, but no woman seems able to attract his attention.

Many evenings I go to sleep listening to him play the piano. It's the most beautiful music I've ever heard, but it sounds so sad.

Those who have known him say that his wife died when they were both very young, and since then he has built a shell around himself that no woman has been able to penetrate.

Obviously, my problem is, how can I let him know that I am interested in him?

NEAR AND YET SO FAR

DEAR NEAR: Invite him to join you in some special dinner. If he reciprocates, you may see the start of a good friendship, at least. After that—who knows?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new technology of the fourth Mideast war has made it certain desert warfare will never be the same again.

Air Pollution Alert Posted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weatherman forecast some relief, but the state Environmental Protection Agency has ordered an air-pollution alert for Cleveland, Steubenville and nearby areas.

The National Weather Service, has issued an air stagnation advisory for the entire state.

The air-pollution index was 252 Tuesday morning for Monroe, Jefferson, Belmont, Columbiana and Cuyahoga counties the EPA said.

An alert is ordered when the index exceeds 200. Under an alert, industries are notified they may be required to cut back some operations.

The weather service forecast winds today that might break up the stagnant air.

The classic picture of large numbers of tanks clashing freely across the sands and supported by low-flying fighter planes and infantrymen appears to be obsolete.

Those free-wheeling tactics, witnessed in the 1967 six-day Mideast war, have been replaced by the relative caution evidenced by both sides before the cease-fire was declared Monday.

The need for more caution is one reason why the war lasted 16 days instead of six.

Take airplanes, for example. Nearly all of the approximately 100 U.S.-supplied F4 Phantoms, A4 Sky Hawks and other fighters lost by the Israelis were downed by Soviet-made ground-to-air missiles.

American planes were challenged by Soviet missiles in North Vietnam, but never at the low altitudes where Israeli jets attempted to support the Israeli counterattack against the initial Egyptian tank thrust across the Suez Canal.

The United States is known to have equipment which when installed in fighter planes can neutralize the radar-controlled Soviet missiles. It is not known how much of that equipment was supplied or in use by the Israelis before or after the new fighting began.

Another surprise to the Israeli tank forces were the appearance of Syrian and Egyptian infantrymen carrying Soviet antitank weapons on their backs.

By all accounts reaching the Pentagon, the RPG7s, as they are called, were fired with deadly accuracy by determined Arab troops. They often moved in advance of their own tanks to aim their weapons at Israeli armor.

In both cases, Israeli tanks were frequently slowed by the fear that they would encounter the Soviet-made antitank weapons even after Arab tanks had been destroyed in large numbers, Pentagon analysts say.

The effect, once again, was to make the Israeli attacking force more cautious and fearful than six years ago.

The late introduction of similar U.S.-made antitank weapons to the Israeli force is difficult to assess because the Israelis did not have them in numbers before the shooting began. But their presence is sure to cause equal caution by Arab armor commanders in any future Mideast combat.

News Of Interest To Women

MR. AND MRS. KEITH HUSTON

Cedar Hill Calvary Church Setting For Marriage Vows

Cedar Hill Calvary Hill Methodist Church of Route 1, Amanda, was the setting for the candlelight wedding of Miss Rita Sue Lear and Mr. Keith Huston at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12th. The Rev. Charles Jenkins, uncle of the bride, solemnized the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Lear, Route 4, Circleville. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huston of Route 2, Laurelville.

The church was decorated with two miniature bouquets of button mums on the altar posts and draped across the Bible on the altar table, was a white carnation. Green and yellow satin bow with streamers hung from two seven-branch candelabra and white velvet bows marked the pews.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Oakley Liest presented a program of nuptial selections with Mr. Mike Queen, cousin of the bride, as vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride wore a white tiered chantilly lace gown with a white nylon and chantilly lace chapel length veil topped with an altar cap.

Mrs. Holiday (Parker) O'Dell was matron of honor. She wore a yellow bonded crepe floor length gown, topped with a yellow flowered organza overlay and a belt of brown velvet. Her wide brimmed hat was of eyelet organza and trimmed with a tiny spray of flowers and a brown velvet streamer.

Bridesmaids, Miss Vicky Ayers, Miss Debbie Ayers and Miss Debbie Payne, were gowned identically as the honor attendant in green with green velvet on their hats.

Mr. Tom Leach served as best man for Mr. Huston. Ushers were Mr. Rick Lear, brother of the bride, Mr. Ken Jenkins and Mr. Mike Queen.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lear selected a green crepe floor length gown trimmed in white ruffled lace. Mrs. Huston wore a knit floor length gown in pumpkin color trimmed with wide rickrack of white knit.

Yellow, green and white decorations were used in the church social room for the reception immediately following the ceremony. The 36 inch, four tiered wedding cake was separated with eight colonial style white posts, and adorned with miniature cherubs, bells and birds. Miniature bride and groom figures stood under a lighted archway in a garden atop the cake.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Mrs. Kenneth Waddell, Mrs. Rick Lear, Miss Jeanine Boggs and Miss Brenda Huston. Mrs. Rick Lear presided at the guest book.

For a short wedding trip the bride wore a two-piece rust and brown suit with brown accessories.

The new Mrs. Huston is employed with the Big Bear Stores in Columbus, and Mr. Huston with the John Hancock Furniture Manufacturing Co. of Columbus.

The couple now resides at Route 4, Circleville.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Chillicothe, Circleville and Columbus.

Brownie Troop 689 Conducts Ceremony

Brownie Troop 689 met recently at Nicholas Drive School for its investiture ceremony.

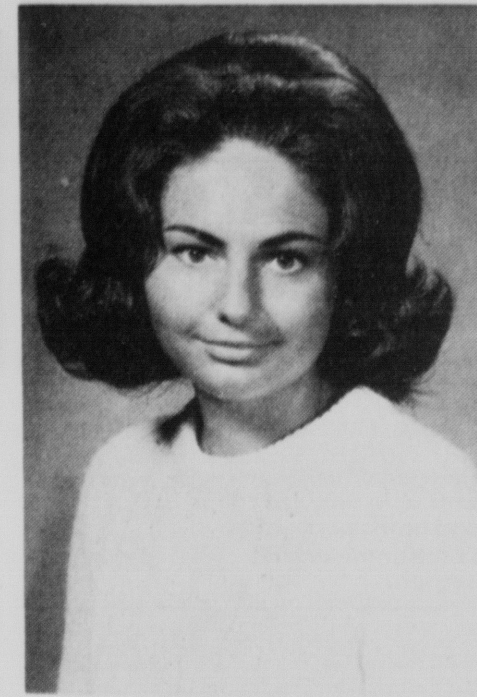

The Pledge of Allegiance was followed with a song. A first year Brownie was then led down a path by a second year Brownie and the Brownie Pledge was said. Following the ceremonies games were played and the girls were taken to a restaurant for a treat.

First year Brownies present were: Kaari Blum, Louise Cain, Jodi Lynn Farmer, Cathy Leeson, Melissa Mills, Jill Ramsey, Tonja Rase, Mindy Smith, Angeline Wilkinson and Brenda Wooddell.

Second year Brownies included: Lisa Arledge, Lori Ford, Kriss Gaines, Kathy McCain, Tonja Miller, Julie Ramsey, Waldena Sowers, Natalie Sutherin and Yvonne Wilkinson.

Adults assisting were Linda Sutherin, Ruth Mills and Mrs. Larry Blum.

Couple Selects Date For Wedding

MISS PAMELA SELLERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sellers of 1195 Lone Pine Road, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Pamela Kaye, to Larry Lee Hamilton, son of Mrs. Martha Duvall, 921 South Court St., Circleville, and Mr. Ralph E. Hamilton, Adelphi.

Miss Sellers is a 1973 graduate of Circleville High School and is currently attending the Chillicothe Branch of Ohio University. She is presently employed with Gerhardt and Kingsley, Attorneys at Law; and Super Duper.

Mr. Hamilton is stationed at Camp LeJeune, N. C., with the 2nd Marine Division as a fiscal clerk.

The tradition of an open church will be observed on Nov. 2nd at the First Baptist Church of Circleville at 8:30 p.m. with the Rev. Milton T. Duke officiating.

A reception will follow in the Fellowship Hall.

Legion Auxiliary Scheduled To Host Fall Roundtable

Discussion of business at the Monday evening meeting of Unit 134, American Legion Auxiliary, was supervised by Mrs. John Sabine, president. Mrs. Cleo Caudill, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Sabine presented a Department of Ohio award to Mrs. Stenobe Stonerock for outstanding work in obtaining 1972-73 membership dues. Mrs. Alice Valentine of the ways and means committee said the candy the unit will sell has arrived.

Mrs. Herbert Stinson accepted the Child welfare department chairmanship. Mrs. David Valentine reported that 108 members have paid dues for 1974. A cash donation was made to Gifts for Yanks Who Gave.

The local unit will host the 7th District Fall Roundtable on Nov. 18th at the Post Home. Registration will begin at noon and the meeting convene at 1 p.m. Members are asked to pledge to furnish salads.

A report was made on the Fall Conference of the 7th District recently at Waverly hosted by Unit 142.

Mrs. Caudill closed the meeting with prayer and Mrs. David Valentine, Mrs. Alice Valentine and Miss Maggie Mavis served refreshments.

Man Innocent Of Murder

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Floyd Lee Mack, 48, Middletown, Ohio, was returned to Lima State Hospital today after he was found innocent of murder by reason of insanity in the killing of his wife.

Mack was acquitted Tuesday in Butler County Common Pleas Court of the June 30, 1972 shooting death of Sadie King, 36.

Mack testified that God told him to kill his wife. He said he heard the voice as he worked as a janitor in the Valley Grove Baptist Church in Dayton.

"When God stirs you up," he testified, "there's nothing you can do about it. You can't prevent it. You can't ask God why, you just obey Him."

School Fees Renounced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — School districts in Ohio which have not paid boiler and incinerator permit fees to the state environmental Protection Agency won't have to do so, it was announced Tuesday.

But those which already have paid, the EPA said, are stuck. They won't get their money back.

The EPA announced cancellation of the $25-a-unit fees for schools.

An EPA spokesman said it wasn't immediately known how much had been collected from schools, but that it's in the thousands of dollars.

The EPA cancelled the fees after school officials complained they already paid a $6 boiler inspection fee as part of their boiler insurance.

wood-toned looks-of-wool re-turning for fall '73

Autumn is the season to sew those winter-warm wool coats and blazers, soft elegant hostess skirts, and tough "football game" pantsuits and slacks. MR. AND MRS. KEITH HUSTON

Cedar Hill Calvary Church Setting For Marriage Vows

Cedar Hill Calvary Hill Methodist Church of Route 1, Amanda, was the setting for the candlelight wedding of Miss Rita Sue Lear and Mr. Keith Huston at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12th. The Rev. Charles Jenkins, uncle of the bride, solemnized the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Lear, Route 4, Circleville. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huston of Route 2, Laurelville.

The church was decorated with two miniature bouquets of button mums on the altar posts and draped across the Bible on the altar table, was a white carnation. Green and yellow satin bow with streamers hung from two seven-branch candelabra and white velvet bows marked the pews.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Oakley Liest presented a program of nuptial selections with Mr. Mike Queen, cousin of the bride, as vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride wore a white tiered chantilly lace gown with a white nylon and chantilly lace chapel length veil topped with an altar cap.

Mrs. Holiday (Parker) O'Dell was matron of honor. She wore a yellow bonded crepe floor length gown, topped with a yellow flowered organza overlay and a belt of brown velvet. Her wide brimmed hat was of eyelet organza and trimmed with a tiny spray of flowers and a brown velvet streamer.

Bridesmaids, Miss Vicky Ayers, Miss Debbie Ayers and Miss Debbie Payne, were gowned identically as the honor attendant in green with green velvet on their hats.

Mr. Tom Leach served as best man for Mr. Huston. Ushers were Mr. Rick Lear, brother of the bride, Mr. Ken Jenkins and Mr. Mike Queen.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lear selected a green crepe floor length gown trimmed in white ruffled lace. Mrs. Huston wore a knit floor length gown in pumpkin color trimmed with wide rickrack of white knit.

Yellow, green and white decorations were used in the church social room for the reception immediately following the ceremony. The 36 inch, four tiered wedding cake was separated with eight colonial style white posts, and adorned with miniature cherubs, bells and birds. Miniature bride and groom figures stood under a lighted archway in a garden atop the cake.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Mrs. Kenneth Waddell, Mrs. Rick Lear, Miss Jeanine Boggs and Miss Brenda Huston. Mrs. Rick Lear presided at the guest book.

For a short wedding trip the bride wore a two-piece rust and brown suit with brown accessories.

The new Mrs. Huston is employed with the Big Bear Stores in Columbus, and Mr. Huston with the John Hancock Furniture Manufacturing Co. of Columbus.

The couple now resides at Route 4, Circleville.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Chillicothe, Circleville and Columbus.

Brownie Troop 689 Conducts Ceremony

Brownie Troop 689 met recently at Nicholas Drive School for its investiture ceremony.

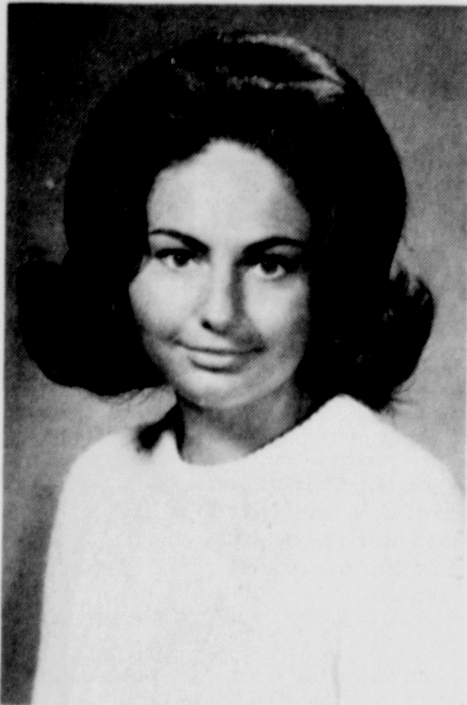

The Pledge of Allegiance was followed with a song. A first year Brownie was then led down a path by a second year Brownie and the Brownie Pledge was said. Following the ceremonies games were played and the girls were taken to a restaurant for a treat.

First year Brownies present were: Kaari Blum, Louise Cain, Jodi Lynn Farmer, Cathy Leeson, Melissa Mills, Jill Ramsey, Tonja Rase, Mindy Smith, Angeline Wilkinson and Brenda Wooddell.

Second year Brownies included: Lisa Arledge, Lori Ford, Kriss Gaines, Kathy McCain, Tonja Miller, Julie Ramsey, Waldena Sowers, Natalie Sutherin and Yvonne Wilkinson.

Adults assisting were Linda Sutherin, Ruth Mills and Mrs. Larry Blum.

Couple Selects Date For Wedding

MISS PAMELA SELLERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sellers of 1195 Lone Pine Road, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Pamela Kaye, to Larry Lee Hamilton, son of Mrs. Martha Duvall, 921 South Court St., Circleville, and Mr. Ralph E. Hamilton, Adelphi.

Miss Sellers is a 1973 graduate of Circleville High School and is currently attending the Chillicothe Branch of Ohio University. She is presently employed with Gerhardt and Kingsley, Attorneys at Law; and Super Duper.

Mr. Hamilton is stationed at Camp LeJeune, N. C., with the 2nd Marine Division as a fiscal clerk.

The tradition of an open church will be observed on Nov. 2nd at the First Baptist Church of Circleville at 8:30 p.m. with The Rev. Milton T. Duke officiating.

A reception will follow in the Fellowship Hall.

Legion Auxiliary Scheduled To Host Fall Roundtable

Discussion of business at the Monday evening meeting of Unit 134, American Legion Auxiliary, was supervised by Mrs. John Sabine, president. Mrs. Cleo Caudill, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Sabine presented a Department of Ohio award to Mrs. Stenobe Stonerock for outstanding work in obtaining 1972-73 membership dues. Mrs. Alice Valentine of the ways and means committee said the candy the unit will sell has arrived.

Mrs. Herbert Stinson accepted the Child welfare department chairmanship. Mrs. David Valentine reported that 108 members have paid dues for 1974. A cash donation was made to Gifts for Yanks Who Gave.

The local unit will host the 7th District Fall Roundtable on Nov. 18th at the Post Home. Registration will begin at noon and the meeting convene at 1 p.m. Members are asked to pledge to furnish salads.

A report was made on the Fall Conference of the 7th District recently at Waverly hosted by Unit 142.

Mrs. Caudill closed the meeting with prayer and Mrs. David Valentine, Mrs. Alice Valentine and Miss Maggie Mavis served refreshments.

Man Innocent Of Murder

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Floyd Lee Mack, 48, Middletown, Ohio, was returned to Lima State Hospital today after he was found innocent of murder by reason of insanity in the killing of his wife.

Mack was acquitted Tuesday in Butler County Common Pleas Court of the June 30, 1972 shooting death of Sadie King, 36.

Mack testified that God told him to kill his wife. He said he heard the voice as he worked as a janitor in the Valley Grove Baptist Church in Dayton.

"When God stirs you up," he testified, "there's nothing you can do about it. You can't prevent it. You can't ask God why, you just obey Him."

School Fees Renounced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — School districts in Ohio which have not paid boiler and incinerator permit fees to the state environmental Protection Agency won't have to do so, it was announced Tuesday.

But those which already have paid, the EPA said, are stuck. They won't get their money back.

The EPA announced cancellation of the $25-a-unit fees for schools.

An EPA spokesman said it wasn't immediately known how much had been collected from schools, but that it's in the thousands of dollars.

The EPA cancelled the fees after school officials complained they already paid a $6 boiler inspection fee as part of their boiler insurance.

UNITED STATES NAVY BAND—Conducted by Chief Musician, John Esty. Teays Valley's closing day before the Pumpkin Show featured the U. S. Navy Band for an assembly.

Navy Band Plays For Assembly

The United States Navy Band from Norfolk, Va. played for the student assembly Oct. 17. The band was under the direction of Chief Musician John Esty.

Selections played were "Cheers," "Norwegian Wood," "Theme from Mannix," "Junior Saw It Happen," "Malaquena," "Keep the Customers Satisfied" and the closing selection "Jesus Christ Super Star."

One of the highlights of the show was a drum solo by Mark Serbain. Serbian is a third class musician from San Francisco. He is presently stationed in Norfolk.

Serbain stated that one of the main reasons for the band traveling to high schools was to recruit students for the Navy. He said it also ties in with "good will and a better image for the Navy."

He added that since it is now a "new volunteer Navy" the Navy must work harder to get recruits, and their band is part of this program.

Chief Musician John Esty is from Maine. He said the band members are from all over the United States and Canada. Six of the members hold college degrees.

The assembly program was very interesting to the students since the band played popular tunes. Many students reported, "It was the best assembly yet."

PUMPKIN SHOW CONTEST — Surrounded by pumpkins at Coon's Market are the two misses selected by Teays Valley High school to represent the school in the annual contest. Betty Brown, front, was selected from the senior class and Debbie Myers, from the junior class.

By Ron Catron
Representing Teays Valley School at Wednesday night's Miss Pumpkin Show contest were Betty Brown and Debbie Myers. The girls were chosen from the junior and senior classes to compete in the annual contest.

Debbie, a junior at TVHS, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kerr Myers, Route 2, Orient. Betty, selected from the senior class, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Brown, Route 1, Ashville.

Although neither of the girls were among the big three winners, they are winners in each of their classes here at TVHS.

The girls met with the ten other contestants at the Pickaway County Country Club for a dinner before the show. When asked last week how she felt about being a contestant, Debbie replied, "I feel it will really be fun."

Betty, like many of the other contestants simply felt great to represent her school. She said she was looking forward to meeting the other girls.

Betty and Debbie competed against ten girls from five other area high schools.

Industrial Arts Classes Provide Daily Challenge

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLASS—Mr. Larry Kirk, an Industrial Arts teacher at Teays Valley High School, is instructing two of his students, David Gibbs and Jerry Pennington, how to make a wooden duck.

By MARSHA THOMAS
Mr. Thomas, Mr. Diehm, and Mr. Kirk are the industrial art teachers at Teays Valley this year.

Industrial arts is learning and applying skills that relate to the industrial world.

In Mr. Kirk's class he remarked "in wood working we design and custom produce projects in wood furniture."

Mr. Diehm teaches a metals course. The metals course offers a field of materials. Mr. Diehm stated "working with metal is getting the idea what metal is like." It's the boys' decision what they want to make throughout the year.

Mr. Thomas teaches the drawing class. He and his class are presently working on various projects. He likes teaching industrial arts because as he said, "It's a new challenge daily."

Industrial arts gives students a chance to get away from a formal classroom situation and allows them to apply learned skills which they acquire through industrial arts.

There are three girls at Teays Valley taking drawing in industrial arts this year.

Bob Pabst, an industrial arts student, stated that he likes taking the course because "I like to work in a Foundry Forging and plastic." He is

Watergate Panel Appeals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee Tuesday asked the U.S. Court of Appeals to reverse a decision dismissing its Watergate tapes suit.

In a brief filed with the appeals court, the committee said, "It has been suggested in the press that a 'compromise' of this lawsuit was reached whereby appellants would forego this litigation in exchange for 'summaries' of certain tapes. This is not correct."

"While the President has unilaterally offered 'summaries' of certain tape recordings, there was no commitment by Sens. (Sam J.) Ervin and (Howard H.) Baker that, as a quid pro quo, this lawsuit would be withdrawn."

The committee said, "We need hardly stress that this case is of great moment to the nation. The President is withholding materials that appellants urgently and vitally need to fulfill their legitimate legislative functions."

Allen Adkinson, another student, said he likes taking industrial arts because "I want to learn craftsmanship, and I like making things." He is working on a tack box for his project.

Poll Shows Split Over Impeachment

NEW YORK (AP) — A nationwide Oliver Quayle poll of 947 adults questioned after the firing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox shows 44 per cent favored impeaching President Nixon.

Forty-three per cent opposed impeachment and 13 per cent were undecided, according to the poll.

The telephone survey was conducted for NBC News, which said Monday that it contained a built-in sampling error of 2 to 3 per cent. "We can't see a statistical distinction" between those for and against impeachment, said Bud Lewis, director of elections for NBC.

The network said the percentage of persons favoring impeachment had nearly doubled since Aug. 12, when an earlier poll showed 23 per cent favoring impeachment, 68 per cent against and 9 per cent undecided.

The latest poll also showed that 75 per cent of those questioned opposed the dismissal of Cox while 16 per cent favored it and 9 per cent were undecided.

Only 22 per cent of those polled gave Nixon a favorable rating on his job performance, with 75 per cent rating it unfavorable and 3 per cent undecided.

A Gallup poll taken before last weekend's developments said 30 per cent of Americans rated Nixon's performance favorably.

Asked in the Quayle poll whether Watergate should be "put behind us," 54 per cent said no, 42 per cent said yes and 4 per cent were undecided.

The poll was conducted in 300 "scientifically selected communities across the country" and designed to question a broad cross-section of people with varying educational and economic backgrounds, NBC said.

Leo D'Arcy In Mayoralty Race

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Democrat Leo D'Arcy decided to run for mayor after taking a long look at the 7-foot hole in his yard where the sewer system was being repaired.

He had waited eight days for city sewer crews to come and repair the damage. And he was still waiting.

"If the problems were big problems, then I think I might feel like I was unqualified," he said. "But what we're talking about are little problems, people problems. Apparently that's what the city needs is somebody to solve the little problems."

The day he was looking at his yard was the day after James Carney stunned the Democratic party by resigning from the mayor's race. D'Arcy jumped in.

He phoned The Associated Press to announce his decision, and he said people began calling the same night, "asking what they could do to help."

D'Arcy's write-in candidacy actually is the third of the nonpartisan mayoral race. Two minor party candidates, representing the Socialist Workers and Socialist Labor parties, had filed earlier to run as write-in candidates.

The heavyweight in the race is incumbent Mayor Ralph J. Perk, a Republican generally favored to win the election easily as the only name on the ballot. Perk had been given the edge by political observers even before Carney resigned.

"I don't know that it (winning) would be possible," D'Arcy said. His only other political race was a losing run for the state legislature in 1962 in Lake County.

Two years ago he moved from Cleveland's plush eastern suburbs back into the city, bringing his wife and seven children to a bigger, three-story house in the northeastern Collinwood section.

He still works as news director of WELW, a radio station in nearby Willoughby, and he said he has no plans to resign that job during the campaign. If there are equal-time complaints, he said, he will know how to handle them.

"I have the news broadcasts and I run a two-hour 'Swap Shop' program," he said. "And if Mayor Perk wants to come in and do it, fine."

Mr. Thomas teaches the drawing class. He and his class are presently working on various projects. He likes teaching industrial arts because as he said, "It's a new challenge daily."

Industrial arts gives students a chance to get away from a formal classroom situation and allows them to apply learned skills which they acquire through industrial arts.

There are three girls at Teays Valley taking drawing in industrial arts this year.

Bob Pabst, an industrial arts student, stated that he likes taking the course because "I like to work in a Foundry Forging and plastic." He is working on a blending bowl for his project.

Allen Adkinson, another student, said he likes taking industrial arts because "I want to learn craftsmanship, and I like making things." He is working on a tack box for his project.

Poll Shows Split Over Impeachment

NEW YORK (AP) — A nationwide Oliver Quayle poll of 947 adults questioned after the firing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox shows 44 per cent favored impeaching President Nixon.

Forty-three per cent opposed impeachment and 13 per cent were undecided, according to the poll.

The telephone survey was conducted for NBC News, which said Monday that it contained a built-in sampling error of 2 to 3 per cent. "We can't see a statistical distinction" between those for and against impeachment, said Bud Lewis, director of elections for NBC.

The network said the percentage of persons favoring impeachment had nearly doubled since Aug. 12, when an earlier poll showed 23 per cent favoring impeachment, 68 per cent against and 9 per cent undecided.

The latest poll also showed that 75 per cent of those questioned opposed the dismissal of Cox while 16 per cent favored it and 9 per cent were undecided.

Only 22 per cent of those polled gave Nixon a favorable rating on his job performance, with 75 per cent rating it unfavorable and 3 per cent undecided.

A Gallup poll taken before last weekend's developments said 30 per cent of Americans rated Nixon's performance favorably.

Asked in the Quayle poll whether Watergate should be "put behind us," 54 per cent said no, 42 per cent said yes and 4 per cent were undecided.

The poll was conducted in 300 "scientifically selected communities across the country" and designed to question a broad cross-section of people with varying educational and economic backgrounds, NBC said.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
A Public Hearing will be held by the Zoning Board of Harrison Township, Pickaway County on November 12, 1973 at 8:00 P.M. in the Township House West on Weiland Road, for the purpose of giving consideration to the application of David Santomero for the rezoning of a lot 70' x 250' of the Plainview Properties on the Circleville-Loockbourne Road from Commercial to Low-Density Residential. For information, contact John E. Fowler, Secretary, Harrison Township Zoning Board, Oct. 24.

LEGAL NOTICE
The Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors, in carrying out Section 1515.29 of the Ohio Revised Code, will conduct a hearing for the purpose of presenting the Hill Group Ditch Project plans to the benefiting landowners of the project area - such hearing to be held in the Muhlenberg Township House at Darbyville, Ohio on November 20, 1973, 7:30 P.M. A copy of the Project plans can be viewed at the office of the Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District, 1440 North Court Street, P. O. Box 359, Circleville, Ohio 43113. Oct. 24, Nov. 6

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knisley and his mother, Mrs. Foster Knisley of Bainbridge, were guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Knisley, at their home in Dayton Saturday. While there they attended the wedding of their son, Robert Allen Knisley and Miss Carol Ann Linger in the Eastmont United Methodist Church, and the reception that followed.

According to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Virgil Stonerock, the condition of John Stonerock, though still quite serious, is some improved.

Mr. Stonerock suffered third degree burns on his body and first degree burns on his face when he struck a match to start his breakfast a few weeks ago and an explosion resulted.

It is believed the gas came from a heating unit that had been moved around and rechecked. He is in room 131 at Chillicothe hospital.

Mrs. Grayce Francis spent the days during the Pumpkin Show with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Grover at their homes in Circleville.

On Sunday, along with another couple here for the Pumpkin Show, Mr. and Mrs. Price Stone of Tipp City, they enjoyed a motor trip in scenic Hocking County.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams to go to the Pumpkin Show were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wisenberger; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crum, L.E. and Michelle of South Point; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bayes of Louisville and their daughter, Miss Terry Bayes, a student at Eastern Kentucky State University who joined them on Saturday; Mr. and Mrs. James Wisenberger, Jim, Debbie, Gary and Kim of Ironton and Miss Lois Wisenberger of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Delong are home from a weeks vacation in Waterbury, Vt. In Burlington, they called on Miss Marcia Patterson and also met her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Don Patterson of Adelphi who were vacationing at Stowe.

The Rev. Wayne Wardwell entered Grant Hospital in Columbus, Monday and will undergo surgery. The Rev. Wardwell is pastor of the Kingston and Whisler Presbyterian Churches.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moss Sr. and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Woods of Whisler, spent the weekend with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Moss and family in Jefferson, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harrington and family of Alexandria, Va. were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wolfe from Thursday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lanman Jr. and son, Del and Miss Patty Cool of Angold, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lanman, Pat and Timmie, Centerville; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Murray; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Myers and Janet of Cambridge City arrived in their campers at the Phillip Davis Farm on the County Line Road, Friday night and attended the Pumpkin Show. They returned to their homes on Sunday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brewery workers meeting in Cincinnati Nov. 5 will be asked to ratify a merger of the United Brewery, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers Union, AFL-CIO, with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

The merger also will be up for ratification by the executive board of the Teamsters when it meets in Miami Beach Oct. 29.

WSU Class Studies Pornography

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Homework for 40 students at Wright State University may be skin flicks, a "dirty" book, or a trip to a local gay bar to talk with homosexuals.

The class is called Problems in Human Sexuality, and its instructors say it's a healthy approach to understanding sex differences among people.

About 40 students, most of them married women, are enrolled in the experimental class sponsored by the Continuing Education Department.

The lecturers are prostitutes, pimps, doctors, biologists, ministers and homosexuals.

But first, students are "desensitized" to what for most is shocking material by showing a stag film, said course co-creator Dr. Gene Wade. An explanation of the film is offered and students are told what to expect.

"If they feel they don't want to watch it they are free to leave," he said. The class is limited to seniors and graduate students and many are school nurses, principals, police officers, psychologists, social workers and guidance counselors, he said.

After viewing the film, the class discusses what prompts people to make such films, what motivates actors to perform in them, and why some people like to watch them.

Students also quiz the speakers, Wade said. Students may ask a prostitute about the hours she works, what she does in her spare time, how much she charges, whether she has a family, how she spends her money, and how she avoids the police.

"They want to know about the prostitute as a human," Wade said.

Speakers such as doctors and ministers, touching on the religious aspect of sex, "attempt to point out the connection between sex as an expression of love which is in turn an expression of Christianity," said Ellen Murray, assistant sociology professor and a partner in the course.

Miss Murray also had an explanation for the absence of men in the class. "Most males are pigheaded and think they know all there is to know about sex," she said.

Biologists talk about genes and chromosomes and the basics of sexual biology, Miss Murray said. "We've found a lot of school teachers who don't know the biology of sex."

Both instructors hoped students would find the course "mind expanding," and would find themselves more tolerant of others.

"The course dispels false notions," Miss Murray said. "We think students become more tolerant of what they have come to call 'queers' and 'perverts.' The course dissipates the stereotype."

2 Men Captured In Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— East Cleveland police engaged in a manhunt in Forest Hills Park before capturing two men and recovering about $11,000 allegedly taken in a bank robbery in the suburb Tuesday.

Police said Patrolman Robert Bayerl, 31, was wounded in an exchange of gunfire with three holdup men outside the Continental Bank branch. Bayerl was reported in satisfactory condition at Huron Road Hospital with an ear wound.

Police said one of the holdup men fled on foot and the other two jumped into Bayerl's cruiser and sped off.

Prosecutor Still Needed, Goodell Says

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP)—Congress should reconstitute the office of special Watergate prosecutor with Archibald Cox at the head, former U.S. Sen. Charles Goodell of New York said here Tuesday night.

The liberal Republican commented freely on Nixon's latest actions in the Watergate investigation during a speech at Kenyon College on civil liberties in the United States.

"We had an ongoing investigation of the Watergate affair by an independent prosecutor, then information was leaked out that Cox was investigating other issues involving the President. Nixon fired Cox and replaced him with one of his minions."

"Under these circumstances, and considering Nixon's track record, we cannot have any confidence in the Justice Department. To me these are grounds for impeachment unless Nixon is willing to see that there is a vigorous and open investigation," Goodell said.

Goodell, who served nine years in the House before filling the Senate vacancy left by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination also said Nixon's decision to release personal tapes would "probably slow down the move in Congress for impeachment."

Goodell lost his bid for reelection after former Vice President Spiro Agnew campaigned against him in the state.

Impeachment Work Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee was to press ahead today with its inquiry into possible grounds for impeachment, despite President Nixon's sudden decision to release his Watergate tapes to the court.

A committee spokesman said the panel's plans are basically unaffected by Nixon's backdown on the tapes issue.

Nixon acted Tuesday less than three hours after House leaders announced their decision to begin procedures that could lead to impeachment.

Nixon's dramatic decision to obey the order of U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica that he had so long resisted swung the emphasis in the impeachment question to what House Democratic whip John J. McFall of California called "the other half of the problem."

This is Nixon's firing of special prosecutor Archibald Cox and assigning of the Watergate investigation to a Justice Department deprived of the two top officials — former Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson and his deputy, William D. Ruckelshaus — who refused to go along with the dismissal of Cox.

The committee's plans call for proceeding with both the impeachment inquiry and consideration of the vice presidential nomination of Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.

Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., told newsmen he hopes Ford's confirmation can be handled first.

Several members echoed an opinion that the Democratic-dominated Congress would be accused of partisanship if it institutes impeachment proceedings before a Republican successor to Nixon is installed. Until there is a vice president, Albert remains next in line of succession.

Nixon's turnaround on the tapes was enthusiastically reported to the still-in-session House by Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican Conference.

A number of Democrats insisted that Nixon's action does not quiet accusations that he obstructed justice in the Watergate investigation.

And Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., cosponsor of a resolution citing a variety of possible grounds for impeachment, said the tape question is only one of many.

"We certainly need a prosecutor," Thompson said. "... I strongly suspect the major effort (by Nixon) was to get rid of Cox."

Cheater Will Seek Vindication

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Robert Lange Sr., who is accused of helping his nephew cheat to win the 1973 All-American Soap Box Derby, says he will go to Akron, Ohio, to vindicate himself and the youth.

Lange was ordered to contribute $2,000 to the Boys' Club of Boulder and banned from any participation in soap box racing for two years by District Court Judge Horace Holmes Tuesday in a non-judicial settlement of charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Afterward he and his attorney, Ralph Harden, told newsmen the "border skirmish" here was over but "the war will be fought in Akron."

"It will be through the proper medium and not on television," said Lange, who contends his nephew, James Gronen, 14, was unjustly disqualified because of an illegal speed gimmick Lange helped install in the boy's car.

"Jimmy has been unjustly ruled the only violator. At least 67 cars were in violation in the '73 derby, which constitutes 50 per cent of the entries," said the founder of the Lange Ski Boot Co.

Harden indicated later that his client is contemplating a civil suit against derby officials "to vindicate his nephew and himself. He feels both were made scapegoats."

"Lange has never accepted the disqualification," said Harden. "He wants to know what tests were made on the cars put ahead of James Gronen's, if they were free of speed gimmicks."

Harden said Lange didn't seek a court trial in Colorado because he thought it would be hard on his nephew and because legal costs would have exceeded the $2,000 contribution.

During Tuesday's court hearing, Judge Holmes said he found it "almost unbelievable the lack of morality, both on the part of the child and the adult involved."

Plant Eyes Safety Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It might take $3 million to make the Columbus Coated Fabrics plant safe for employees under state health department suggestions, a company official said Tuesday.

Lionel Nosenchuck, director of advertising for the plant, the site of an outbreak of a nerve ailment, said company officials still are considering health department suggestions to determine if they are "necessary or appropriate."

Union officials claim poor ventilation and other conditions at the facility contributed to the outbreak of the illness, known as peripheral neuropathy. Traces of the malady, which causes weakening in arms and legs, have been detected in 69 employees, and eight have severe symptoms.

Nosenchuck said the firm already is in the process of installing $1 million worth of new ventilation equipment. This was one of the recommendations of the health department.

Officials of the Textile Workers Union Local 483, who once threatened to strike, said the suggested changes would make the facility safe for workers.

Court Nixes News Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Tuesday refused to interfere with contempt of court fines assessed against two newsmen for reporting on a public hearing.

Over the objection of Justice William O. Douglas the court refused to hear an appeal from two Baton Rouge, La., newsmen. They claimed a federal district court order against reporting on the 1971 hearing was an obvious violation of First Amendment freedoms. They reported despite the order and were each fined $300.

The issue placed before the high court was not whether the anti-reporting ban was illegal, but rather whether it was so obviously illegal that the two newsmen could safely disobey it.

The U.S. Circuit Court at New Orleans struck down the ban as unconstitutional, but said the newsmen, Larry Dickinson of the Baton Rouge State Times and Gibbs Adams of the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate, should have appealed it before reporting on the hearing. U.S. District Court Judge E. Gordon West's finding that the two were in contempt was upheld.

DID YOU KNOW THAT DRUG "INTERACTION" CAN HARM YOU?

It's a fact that some medications are incompatible, producing dangerous side effects. We want to know all the medications (prescriptions and others) you are taking. As new medications are prescribed, we'll advise you of any possible ill effects.

Impeachment Work Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee was to press ahead today with its inquiry into possible grounds for impeachment, despite President Nixon's sudden decision to release his Watergate tapes to the court.

A committee spokesman said the panel's plans are basically unaffected by Nixon's backdown on the tapes issue.

Nixon acted Tuesday less than three hours after House leaders announced their decision to begin procedures that could lead to impeachment.

Nixon's dramatic decision to obey the order of U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica that he had so long resisted swung the emphasis in the impeachment question to what House Democratic whip John J. McFall of California called "the other half of the problem."

This is Nixon's firing of special prosecutor Archibald Cox and assigning of the Watergate investigation to a Justice Department deprived of the two top officials — former Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson and his deputy, William D. Ruckelshaus — who refused to go along with the dismissal of Cox.

The committee's plans call for proceeding with both the impeachment inquiry and consideration of the vice presidential nomination of Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.

Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., told newsmen he hopes Ford's confirmation can be handled first.

Several members echoed an opinion that the Democratic-dominated Congress would be accused of partisanship if it institutes impeachment proceedings before a Republican successor to Nixon is installed. Until there is a vice president, Albert remains next in line of succession.

Nixon's turnabout on the tapes was enthusiastically reported to the still-in-session House by Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican Conference.

A number of Democrats insisted that Nixon's action does not quiet accusations that he obstructed justice in the Watergate investigation.

And Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., cosponsor of a resolution citing a variety of possible grounds for impeachment, said the tape question is only one of many.

"We certainly need a prosecutor," Thompson said. "... I strongly suspect the major effort (by Nixon) was to get rid of Cox."

Cheater Will Seek Vindication

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Robert Lange Sr., who is accused of helping his nephew cheat to win the 1973 All-American Soap Box Derby, says he will go to Akron, Ohio, to vindicate himself and the youth.

Lange was ordered to contribute $2,000 to the Boys' Club of Boulder and banned from any participation in soap box racing for two years by District Court Judge Horace Holmes Tuesday in a non-judicial settlement of charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Afterward he and his attorney, Ralph Harden, told newsmen the "border skirmish" here was over but "the war will be fought in Akron."

"It will be through the proper medium and not on television," said Lange, who contends his nephew, James Gronen, 14, was unjustly disqualified because of an illegal speed gimmick Lange helped install in the boy's car.

"Jimmy has been unjustly ruled the only violator. At least 67 cars were in violation in the '73 derby, which constitutes 50 per cent of the entries," said the founder of the Lange Ski Boot Co.

Harden indicated later that that his client is contemplating a civil suit against derby officials "to vindicate his nephew and himself. He feels both were made scapegoats."

"Lange has never accepted the disqualification," said Harden. "He wants to know what tests were made on the cars put ahead of James Gronen's, if they were free of speed gimmicks."

Harden said Lange didn't seek a court trial in Colorado because he thought it would be hard on his nephew and because legal costs would have exceeded the $2,000 contribution.

During Tuesday's court hearing, Judge Holmes said he found it "almost unbelievable the lack of morality, both on the part of the child and the adult involved."

Plant Eyes Safety Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It might take $3 million to make the Columbus Coated Fabrics plant safe for employees under state health department suggestions, a company official said Tuesday.

Lionel Nosenchuck, director of advertising for the plant, the site of an outbreak of a nerve ailment, said company officials still are considering health department suggestions to determine if they are "necessary or appropriate."

Union officials claim poor ventilation and other conditions at the facility contributed to the outbreak of the illness, known as peripheral neuropathy. Traces of the malady, which causes weakening in arms and legs, have been detected in 69 employees, and eight have severe symptoms.

Nosenchuck said the firm already is in the process of installing $1 million worth of new ventilation equipment. This was one of the recommendations of the health department.

Officials of the Textile Workers Union Local 483, who once threatened to strike, said the suggested changes would make the facility safe for workers.

U.S., Russia Put Together Middle East Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States recognized at the very start of the Middle East war that if diplomacy could halt the fighting Washington and Moscow would have to work together. From then on, with few exceptions, the two superpowers avoided accusations and harsh rhetoric. Their behavior appeared aimed at avoiding disruption of the detente that is at the core of their policies toward each other — even while feeding Israel and the Arab states the weapons of war. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger did wag a finger at Moscow now and then. "We shall resist aggressive foreign policies," he said at a forum on Oct. 8, the third day of the war. "Detente cannot survive irresponsibility in any area, including the Middle East." More typical was the tone he took at an Oct. 12 news conference when he simply chided the Russians for not being "helpful" and declared: "We are in a delicate situation that can easily be inflamed." On the Soviet side, U.N. Ambassador Jakob Malik publicly condemned the Israelis as "barbarians" shortly after the war broke out and he stalked out of a Security Council meeting. But the vituperation was occasional. President Nixon and Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party leader, exchanged private messages Oct. 7, the second day of the conflict. The next morning Administration officials were saying that Moscow appeared to share Washington's desire to limit the war. Kissinger met almost daily with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin or at least talked with him over the telephone. This course of consultation had been established even while the Arabs were massing their attack. In the few frantic hours Oct. 5 between an Israeli warning and the actual outbreak the United States turned mostly to Russia to try to head it off. The effort failed. But they kept working together.

Report Israeli Forces Cut Egypt's Supply Lines To Sinai

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli forces may have cut off the major part of the dwindling Egyptian army in the Sinai from its source of supplies in Egypt, U.S. military analysts say. They believe this could dangerously weaken Egyptian forces on the east bank of the Suez Canal if a new cease-fire announced early today does not last. Before the announcement of the new peace attempt, U.S. military officials said the fighting between the Israelis and Egyptians never stopped after a cease-fire was supposed to have ended the shooting Monday. It is not clear from reports available here whether either side ever abided by the earlier cease-fire. The Israelis, who pushed an armored task force across the Suez Canal in a surprise stroke more than a week ago, are said to have cut vital railroad and highway lines between Cairo and two key cities, Ismailia and Suez, from which supplies have been fed to Egyptian troops in the Sinai.

Unless the Egyptians can reopen those lines, or improve some other routes, their infantry and armor on the east bank of the canal may run low on ammunition and other supplies, U.S. military experts said. Meanwhile, reports to the Pentagon tell of a gradual movement of Egyptian troops back across the canal from

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday October 24, 1973 13 the Sinai. This started late last week, officials said. U.S. military authorities stressed that the Egyptian army still was fighting and had not collapsed. From the tactical point of view, American military men criticized Egyptian commanders for failing to react quickly enough to the Israeli thrust across the canal into Egypt. In effect, they said, the Israelis found a weak point where two Egyptian armies joined and then exploited that weakness. An original probe of about 20 Israeli tanks has grown, according to some U.S. estimates to a force of perhaps 400 to 500 tanks and some 20,000 Israeli soldiers in a widening and deepening wedge. It is this force that is reported to have cut Egypt's major supply routes to its Sinai army.

Report Israeli Forces Cut Egypt's Supply Lines To Sinai

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli forces may have cut off the major part of the dwindling Egyptian army in the Sinai from its source of supplies in Egypt, U.S. military analysts say. They believe this could dangerously weaken Egyptian forces on the east bank of the Suez Canal if a new cease-fire announced early today does not last. Before the announcement of the new peace attempt, U.S. military officials said the fighting between the Israelis and Egyptians never stopped after a cease-fire was supposed to have ended the shooting Monday. It is not clear from reports available here whether either side ever abided

by the earlier cease-fire. The Israelis, who pushed an armored task force across the Suez Canal in a surprise stroke more than a week ago, are said to have cut vital railroad and highway lines between Cairo and two key cities, Ismailia and Suez, from which supplies have been fed to Egyptian troops in the Sinai.

Unless the Egyptians can reopen those lines, or improve some other routes, their infantry and armor on the east bank of the canal may run low on ammunition and other supplies, U.S. military experts said. Meanwhile, reports to the Pentagon tell of a gradual movement of Egyptian troops back across the canal from

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday October 24, 1973 13 the Sinai. This started late last week, officials said. U.S. military authorities stressed that the Egyptian army still was fighting and had not collapsed. From the tactical point of view, American military men criticized Egyptian commanders for failing to react quickly enough to the Israeli thrust across the canal into Egypt. In effect, they said, the Israelis found a weak point where two Egyptian armies joined and then exploited that weakness. An original probe of about 20 Israeli tanks has grown, according to some U.S. estimates to a force of perhaps 400 to 500 tanks and some 20,000 Israeli soldiers in a widening and deepening wedge. It is this force that is reported to have cut Egypt's major supply routes to its Sinai army.

Sohio Chief Sees Oil Shortages

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Charles E. Spahr, chairman of the Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), says "recent developments in the Middle East and North Africa" have cut into Sohio's crude oil sources and that more oil shortages are in prospect.

Spahr made the statement as he announced a big jump in nine-month earnings from $40.4 million in 1972 to $77.8 million this year.

Without extraordinary items totaling $15.3 million from sale of oil properties and uranium interests, the nine-month total was $62.5 million, or $3.40 a share—a 55 per cent increase.

Sales for the nine months ended Sept. 30 totaled $1,095,400,000, compared to $1,005,800,000 for the first nine months of 1972.

For the third quarter, net income totaled $18 million, or 97 cents a share, compared to $15.8 million, or 87 cents a share, for the third quarter of 1972.

Spahr warned of the possibility that Sohio may not be able to maintain refinery operations at scheduled rates because of the "growing shortage of crude oil."

He said unless Sohio can buy more supplies "it is likely that our company will fall substantially short of crude oil it needs to fulfill its operating plan for the coming year."

"Recent developments in the Middle East and North Africa have caused Sohio to lose crude oil from that area, and prospects for replacing it are conjectural."

A company spokesman said Spahr was referring to announced plans of some Arab states to curtail oil shipments to the United States.

Spahr said the oil shortage is compounded by the federal government's failure to implement a mandatory allocation program applying to all oil companies.

"If we are unable to obtain an adequate supply of crude oil and the coming winter should be unusually severe," he said, "the company will be forced to make even stricter allocations to industrial, commercial, transportation and construction industry customers to maintain supplies to our farm, residential heat and vital service customers."

Shock Probation Analysis Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A better way must be found to determine what happens to prisoners released on "shock" probation in Ohio, the chairman of a legislative study committee said Tuesday.

Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, told his Legislative Service Commission Study Committee on Program Evaluation that the present system enables the Adult Parole Authority to keep track of prisoners for only a year.

George F. Denton, chief of the parole authority, conceded this was the case, but said part of the problem lies in the fact that the 40 county common pleas courts which operate their own probation systems do not share information completely or regularly with the state agency.

Henry Grimes, superintendent of probation development for the APA, suggested the legislature might pass a law mandating a uniform statewide information system. The APA handles probation and parole work in 48 counties.

Maloney asked the APA officials to come before his interim study committee after he was "startled," he said, by reading in an LSC staff report that a third of those on shock probation went back to prison over a four year period.

Denton explained that the figures show the number of returnees for all reasons, including parole violations, and are not valid as a measurement of the success or failure of the seven-year-old shock probation system.

The legislature authorized the state's judges in 1966 to place prisoners on probation after they had experienced the shock of having been incarcerated for a minimum of 130 days.

In 1966, a total of 85 convicts received shock probation, and five were returned after new convictions—or 5.8 per cent.

In 1971, there were 150 who came back among 1,688 placed on probation, formation completely or regularly with the state agency.

or 8.9 per cent. The highest was in 1968 when 10 per cent of 480 placed on probation were convicted of new offenses.

Maloney complained that the present system of collecting information limits the authority to one year. "We don't know what happened to the others who got probation back in 1966," he said.

The chairman said the committee will begin discussing recommendations for legislation at its next meeting, which probably will be held in the next two or three weeks.

Crash Brings Death Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police have charged a 20-year-old Columbus man with vehicular homicide after a head-on crash early Tuesday on a downtown bridge.

Gary Swann was charged in the death of Michael Stone, 17, of Ashland.

Two passengers in Stone's car were hospitalized. A hospital spokesman said one, Christopher Graves, 18, of Kutztown, Pa., was in critical condition.

Police said Swann was driving in the wrong lane.

Saxbe Thinks Tapes Release Red Herring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Nixon's surprise surrender of the Watergate tapes may have been a ruse to draw Congress off a more serious path, Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, said Tuesday.

Saxbe theorized for reporters that had the tapes contained evidence dangerous to the President, "They would have been destroyed before the investigation ever started."

"We're being drawn off on a false scent, perhaps," said Saxbe, a maverick Republican critic of the Nixon Administration.

The Committee to Re-elect the President, not the Republican Party, should shoulder the blame for the Watergate affair, Saxbe said.

"If the Republican party and state party organizations had been in charge, this would have never happened," he said.

"I saw something coming down there in Washington that was wrong, but I couldn't do anything about it," Saxbe said of his record of criticizing Nixon. Saxbe recently announced he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1975, stating primarily reasons of disillusionment with the Senate.

On other matters, Saxbe said the Senate should confirm at once Nixon's appointment of U.S. Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., as a successor to former Vice President Spiro Agnew.

Should Nixon leave office without a vice president, Saxbe said, U.S. Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., the House Speaker, would be President.

"Albert isn't qualified and doesn't want it," Saxbe said.

Puckett and Joe Angles, ends; Dave Shannon, quarterback; Artie Dick, fullback; Rick Gaa and Terry Hegarty, halfbacks.

Defensively it will be: Tim Hegarty, middle guard; John Long and Dick, linebackers; Dawson and Bill Kiser, tackles; Puckett and Randy Hildenbrand, ends; Gaa and Shannon, cornerbacks; Terry Hegarty and Gaa,

"We feel it should be a pretty even ball game," LE coach Bob Stant announced. "They are a wide open club offensively, but are pretty basic on defense."

The Lions have a multiple offense and the pass and quick pitch have been the major weapons on offense.

Rick Underwood, quarterback, is the best player for the Lions.

Stant named Stewart Jones his defensive player of the week and Steve Sargent his offensive player. "I was pleased with the boys last week. They put out a good effort against a good team. If they can generate that kind of effort this week we should win," he stated.

Logan Elm will be as ready physically this week as any time during the year. Defensively the Braves will stick with the 4-4 or the 6-3 team feel the same way.

"They are obvious rivals— young like us, in the same division, located just over the state line in Ohio. One of the few cheap shots that I've ever taken in the NFL came from Bill Bergey of the Bengals, and I've enjoyed beating them even more since then."

Said Bergey: "He's writing about something that happened three years ago. If he wants to write those kind of things to sell his book, that's fine. I hope it sells a million copies."

Then, a few minutes later, the center-linbacker grunted: "Some day I'm going to write a book."

Receiver Chip Myers jumped to Bergey's defense. "That wasn't cheap shot," he said. "He was running the ball and he's fair game. Linbacker Ken Avery agreed."

All Pro defensive tackle Mike Reid also was noted in the book.

Bradshaw was talking about Pittsburgh's 40-17 massacre of Cincinnati last year avenging an earlier loss.

American Football Conference and Clark fifth. Clark is the second leading rookie rusher in the 26-team NFL, trailing Minnesota's Chuck Foreman by 27 yards.

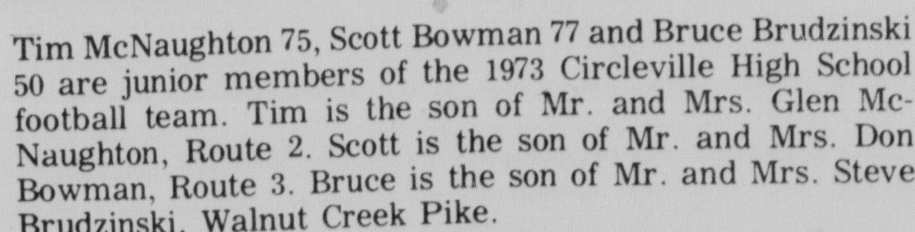

"Boobie has emerged as a tremendous competitor," said Brown, who feels he's found the big back he's been searching for.

"He's no Fancy Dan...just one of those chips-down runners," said Brown.

Clark has been instrumental in Cincinnati's back-to-back victories over AFC powerhouses Pittsburgh and Kansas City. He gained 118 yards in a stunning 19-7 triumph over the Steelers and had 106 in Sunday's 14-6 victory over the Chiefs.

"It's kind of a surprise," said Clark, "but I know I'm made of the same stuff as other ballplayers. A lot of people think only the big schools turn out the best athletes. That's not true. There's a lot of good athletes in the small schools."

County Gridders Face League Encounters

Teays Valley will host Dublin in a Metropolitan League clash, Westfall will be at home with Piketon in a Scioto Valley Conference encounter and Logan Elm will travel to Liberty Union for a Mid State battle in county grid action Friday night.

"This is a must win game for us if we hope to stay alive in the race for the Metro crown," Teays Valley coach

Dick Kidwell stated. "Dublin is a strong, physical team and we must control the football if we are going to win."

Basically a running team, Dublin will operate from a slot T and play ball control football. The offense is powered by Charley Simon, 6-foot-1, 215-pound tailback. Simon is one of the top backs in the Central District and combines power with exceptional speed.

Always a strong defensive team, the Shamrocks will utilize a 6-2 with zone pass coverage. The defense is anchored by their two All-District linebackers, Simon and Brian Lewis.

Dublin is 3-2 in the Metro League and has a 4-2 mark overall.

Teays Valley is 5-2 overall for the season and 4-1 in league play. The Vikings are coming into the contest off a big win over Grandview last week and are breathing down the necks of front running West Jefferson in league play.

Coach Kidwell had high praise for the defensive work of Keith Pettibone and the outstanding blocking job by the entire offensive line in the win over Grandview.

The offensive lineup for the Vikings will be: Lance Henson and Boyd Palsgrove, ends; Lee Stiles and Dennis Stir, tackles; Ed Long and Keith Pettibone, guards; Bill Hurley, center; Chuck Glitt, quarterback; Mike Pettibone, fullback; Ted Ross, halfback; Terry Lambert, tailback.

On defense it will be: Henson and Keith Pettibone, ends; Bill Toole and Steve Gray, tackles; Hurley, middle guard; Bill Breen and Mike Reed, linebackers; Tony Sayre and Bob Weber, invert backs; Lambert and Glitt, safeties.

Puckett and Joe Angles, ends; Dave Shannon, quarterback; Artie Dick, fullback; Rick Gaa and Terry Hegarty, halfbacks.

Defensively it will be: Tim Hegarty, middle guard; John Long and Dick, linebackers; Dawson and Bill Kiser, tackles; Puckett and Randy Hildenbrand, ends; Gaa and Shannon, cornerbacks; Terry Hegarty and Gary Thompson, halfbacks.

Liberty Union has a 3-3-1 record this season having beaten Pickerington, Amanda-Clearcreek and Bloom Carroll and tied Fairfield Union.

"We feel it should be a pretty even ball game," LE coach Bob Stant announced. "They are a wide open club offensively, but are pretty basic on defense."

The Lions have a multiple offense and the pass and quick pitch have been the major weapons on offense.

Rick Underwood, quarterback, is the best player for the Lions.

Stant named Stewart Jones his defensive player of the week and Steve Sargent his offensive player. "I was pleased with the boys last week. They put out a good effort against a good team. If they can generate that kind of effort this week we should win," he stated.

Logan Elm will be as ready physically this week as any time during the year. Defensively the Braves will stick with the 4-4 or the 6-2.

The LE coaching staff has not planned any basic changes in personnel either on offense or defense.

Rose Heads All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Batting champions Pete Rose and Rod Carew, primarily singles hitters, and sluggers Willie Stargell and Reggie Jackson, leaders in home runs and runs batted in, were named today to the 1973 Major League All-Star team announced by The Associated Press.

National Leaguers dominated the voting, winning seven of 10 places on the squad selected by sports writers and broadcasters, but the NL champion New York Mets failed to land a player.

In the balloting based on regular-season performances only, Rose, the National League batting champion for the third time with a .338 average, was the top vote collector.

The hustling Cincinnati Reds' outfielder received 251 votes, 20 more than runner-up Stargell.

Stargell, the husky Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder-first baseman who led the NL in home runs with 44 and in RBI with 119, accumulated 231 votes.

Jackson, the pacesetter of the American League and World Series champion Oakland A's, won the other outfield berth on the All-Star team with 200 votes. He won the AL home run title with 32 and the RBI championship with 117.

Carew, the Minnesota Twins' slick second baseman, led the infielders with 136 votes. Joining him in the infield were first baseman Tony Perez of the Cincinnati Reds, shortstop Chris Speier of the San Francisco Giants and third baseman Darrell Evans of the Atlanta Braves.

Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's irrepressible catcher, was the only repeater from the 1972 team.

Ron Bryant of the San Francisco Giants, the only National League pitcher with at least 20 victories—he had 24—was chosen as the All-Star left-handed hurler, and fireballing Nolan Ryan of the California Angels, who set a major league strikeout record with 383, was picked as the top right-handed pitcher.

Hank Aaron, Atlanta's 39-year-old slugger who hit 40 homers for a career total of 713, only one short of Babe Ruth's all-time record, wound up fifth among the outfielders with 124 votes. San Francisco's Bobby Bonds was fourth with 157 votes.

The 31-year-old Rose, NL batting champion in 1968 and 1969 with averages of .335 and .348, respectively, won the title this year by rapping out a major league-leading total of 230 hits, including 181 singles.

Carew, also winner of AL batting crowns in 1969 with a .332 mark and 1972 at .318, captured his third title with a .350 average, highest in the majors. He was the only American League player to collect at least 200 hits, finishing with 203, including 156 singles.

He beat out Atlanta's Dave Johnson for the second base spot by 29 votes. Johnson, after setting a major league record for second basemen with 43 homers, received 107 votes.

The closest vote was for right-handed pitcher, Ryan, with a 21-16 record in addition to bettering Sandy Koufax' seasonal strikeout record of 382, polled 105 votes in besting National League strikeout leader Tom Seaver of the Mets.

Seaver garnered 86 votes, highest among the NL champions. Jim Palmer, Baltimore's 22-game winner, finished third with 71 votes, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter, a 21-game winner with Oakland, was fourth with 63.

Bryant received 88 votes in outpolling three other 20-game winners—Vida Blue and Ken Holtzman of Oakland and Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox—to win top honors for lefthanded pitchers.

Bench, a .253 hitter with 25 homers and 104 RBI for Cincinnati's NL West Division champions, was a landslide winner as catcher. He got 184 votes, easily outdistancing Thurman Munson of the New York Yankees, runner-up with 57 votes.

Perez, fourth in batting in the National League with a .314 average in addition to hitting 27 homers and driving in 101 runs, received 90 votes for first base. John Mayberry of the Kansas City Royals finished second.

Evans, a surprising third in the National League with a career high of 41 homers plus a .280 batting average and 104 runs batted in, was tabbed the best third baseman on 119 ballots. Oakland's Sal Bando was next with 87 votes.

The slick-fielding Speier, a .249 batter with 11 homers and 71 runs batted in, collected 103 votes in winning easily at shortstop. Bill Russell of the Los Angeles Dodgers was a distant second with 53.

MacPhail President Of AL

CHICAGO (AP) — Lee MacPhail, a baseball man who prefers interleague play and a shorter season, has been named president of the American League, succeeding Joe Cronin.

Cronin, who has been the league president since 1959, will step down Jan. 1, 1974, and become chairman of the board. Cronin, 67, will preside over the league meetings in Houston in December.

MacPhail, 55, said Tuesday after being named to the post that he would spend the next two months winding up his duties as general manager of the New York Yankees.

MacPhail is the son of Larry MacPhail who introduced the major leagues to night baseball and owned the Cincinnati Reds, New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers.

MacPhail said he didn't contemplate any immediate changes. However, he said he is opposed to three leagues but favors interleague play and a shorter season to be cut at the end in order to move up the playoffs and the World Series.

MacPhail said "I hate to change from being active or leaving the New York Yankees. I spent one year in the commissioner's office and I don't like being neutral."

"But neither did I want to miss this opportunity," said MacPhail, who added that one of his objectives when he takes over is to improve the relationship with the National League.

MacPhail said, "The new ownership of the Yankees had nothing to do with my leaving the club. I found my relationship with the new owners excellent. I only feel I left my real quest unaccomplished without getting the Yankees back on top."

Meanwhile, American League owners said they would make every effort to make the designated hitter rule permanent. Currently it is on a three-year experimental basis.

Bob Short, owner of the Texas Rangers, was one of the stronger designated hitter backers.

"We want to be able to put the rule to use when we play in our home parks in exhibition games, the All-Star and World Series. We've used it for a year ... we like it ... and the fans like it."

Cronin read a statement from the Yankees that it was with great "trepidation" that they gave MacPhail permission to accept the appointment.

They said they regretted their loss which they called the American League's gain.

"I echo those sentiments," said Cronin, the Most Valuable Player in the American League in 1930 and named to the game's Hall of Fame in 1956.

Yogi Berra Gets 3-Year Mets Pact

HAWORTH, N.J. (AP) — Yogi Berra, dressed like Jack Nicklaus but hitting the golf ball very much unlike the progolfer, reflected for a moment on his new contract to manage the New York Mets.

"They were very good to me," said Berra, who agreed Tuesday to spend his next three summers at Shea Stadium. "I asked if I could have it and they said, fine."

Then Yogi went out for 18 holes of golf. He did better at the negotiation table than he did on the White Bunches Golf and Country Club course. "I am playing lousy golf," the manager confessed.

Berra rounded the course in a snazzy outfit that included two-tone red and white golf shoes. He looked happy, with his contract, if not his golf.

Security was an important part of the new agreement which included a substantial raise, probably to $75,000. More than once, Berra heard the wolves at his door when the Mets were dragging along in last place during what seemed to be an endless summer.

The announcement was made two days after the Mets lost the seventh game of the World Series to the Oakland A's. That was seven games farther than anybody, Berra included, expected them to go this season.

Tiger Harriers Win Tri Meet

Circleville's cross country team continued its winning ways Tuesday with a victory over Hamilton Twp. and Greenfield in a triangular meet.

The Roundtowners captured eight of the first 10 places for a total of 19 points. Hamilton Twp. had 50 and Greenfield compiled 109.

Matt McGowan took first place for the Red and Black with a time of 9:48.

Other places for the Tigers in the 34-man field went to: Steve Watters, second; Doug Radabaugh, third; Robin Martin, sixth; Bill Bruno, seventh; Keith Stevenson, eighth; John Ater, ninth; Kirk Knecht, 10th; Jeff Carter, 13th; Brent Patrick, 16th; Frank Plescia, 17th; Doug Baker, 18th; Randy Zwayer, 19th; Doug Radcliff, 21st; Ed Brown, 22nd; Dwight Plum, 29th.

Cleveland Cavaliers Defeat Trail Blazers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— "The first one... seems to be the toughest one to get every year," sighed Cleveland Cavaliers' Coach Bill Fitch.

The Cavaliers got "the first one" Tuesday night, untracking the high-scoring Portland Trail Blazers for their first National Basketball Association victory after losing their first four games.

'Boobie' Clark Catch Of Year

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals think rookie running sensation Charles "Boobie" Clark—who spent most of his college career as a tight end—may be the "catch" of the year in the National Football League.

"Call it one lucky stab," said Bengals Coach Paul Brown Tuesday. Clark, a 6-foot-2, 235-pound 12th round draft choice out of Bethune-Cookman (Fla.) College, has teamed up with veteran Essex Johnson to give the giant-killing Bengals their best backfield combination in the club's six-year history.

And they're threatening to duplicate the unprecedented feat of 1972 when Miami's Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris become the first players from the same NFL team to gain $1,000 yards each in the same season.

Johnson, with 529 yards, and Clark's 457 put the Bengal backs 179 yards ahead of the pace set by Csonka and Morris after six games a year ago.

Johnson is ranked No. 2 in the American Football Conference and Clark fifth. Clark is the second leading rookie rusher in the 26-team NFL, trailing Minnesota's Chuck Foreman by 27 yards.

"Boobie has emerged as a tremendous competitor," said Brown, who feels he's found the big back he's been searching for.

"He's no Fancy Dan... just one of those chips-down runners," said Brown.

Clark has been instrumental in Cincinnati's back-to-back victories over AFC powerhouses Pittsburgh and Kansas City. He gained 118 yards in a stunning 19-7 triumph over the Steelers and had 106 in Sunday's 14-6 victory over the Chiefs.

"It's kind of a surprise," said Clark, "but I know I'm made of the same stuff as other ballplayers. A lot of people think only the big schools turn out the best athletes. That's not true. There's a lot of good athletes in the small schools."

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The last day of the waning Moon finds you all stirred up to try to force others to your will and desires, but any such pressures could be disastrous for you and others, so show you can maintain patience and do your job well.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr. 19) You think that cooperation means forcing others to do what you like, but this isn't true. Listen to others; combine ideas, efforts justly, wisely. Avoid harangues.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't expect fellow workers to do some of your work because you are loaded down, or you could get into trouble. Improve appearance, health.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get tasks done if you want time for amusements over the coming weekend. Creative labors could be really enjoyable now. Think and act decisively.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't kneedle kin into making improvements and repairs to your home; do it yourself. Use your fine artistic sense, but be practical. Avoid one who bickers.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Schedule time carefully and get routines done. Don't be shortchanged or lose wallet shopping, doing errands. Evening is fine for the social.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Instead of spending more money, get busy and pay your bills, make collections. Discuss financial plan with an expert before pushing it through. Drive safely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Although you may be under pressure, be sure you keep self-controlled or others can get the best of you. Plan a wiser social schedule.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Instead of blasting others because you can't gain your aims quickly, get busy and iron out kinks in your operations. Aid those who come to you for assistance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Use tact with friends who're not quite up to par, or you could lose valuable alliances. Avoid some party where you are apt to get into trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get into civic work instead of criticizing bigwigs and you become a better citizen. Make at least a part payment on bills that are outstanding.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to step out to new circles and interests, but first plan where, who and how. Forget differences with others. Be good to yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Although you want to make radical changes, keep promises and get them behind you. Show understanding for mate who is not feeling up to par.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those extremely active young people who could prove very difficult for others to keep up with. See to it that the energies are channeled in right directions for a big success ahead, otherwise you could easily have a big troublemaker here instead. Teach early to control temper and give an opportunity to get into sports, do chores around the house. Fine chart for the builder, the organizer, the writer. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — There've been a lot of cops 'n' robbers shows on the tube this season and most are pretty bad. But sooner or later someone was bound to come up with something good.

It's finally happened with "Kojak," which premieres tonight on CBS-TV. Save time for it if you can, because it has class written all over it. The proceedings star Telly Savalas as Theo Kojak, a New York police lieutenant who's so sardonic and hard-boiled you get the feeling he warms up before work by sneering at babies.

Tonight's saga appears to have been lifted from a real-life drama of last year, when some gungels held up a Brooklyn sporting goods store, then made the patrons hostages when the police showed up and surrounded the place.

The TV version starts things off with an armored car holdup that goes awry when a passing citizen sees it in progress and notifies the law.

The law arrives, there's a gunfight and the baddies flee, three of them in a panel truck and four others — one of them mortally wounded — in a car.

The gang in the car is chased through the streets of New York, finally getting trapped by a roadblock. They dump their wounded accomplice on the street and dash inside a war surplus store, shooting a cop who also had run in the store to warn the clerks and customers there to get out.

Then, as the police surround the place and bring in an armored half-track, the three stickup men demand a jetliner and freedom, threatening to kill their five hostages if their demands aren't met in two hours.

The rest of the show has Savalas, brisk and efficient, trying to end the impasse without bloodshed. You know he will, but it's an exciting, gripping hour nonetheless.

The show has the ring of authenticity to it, particularly in its depiction of the theater-of-the-absurd atmosphere that usually attends these particular situations in New York.

A large crowd gathers to watch the show, the ubiquitous TV crew is there to bring it all live to the folks at home and even delegates from the Hare Krishna sect show up to dance, chant and ring their finger cymbals.

The madness is nicely summed up when the crowd cheers and applauds because the gungels have surrendered and are walking out, preceded by Kojak carrying the body of a policeman.

Poor Nations Hurt By Grain Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — A United Nations food authority has touched on a tender nerve — food shortages in poor countries — which has rarely been exposed by Nixon administration officials who have cited repeatedly the economic advantages to farmers of high grain prices caused by record grain exports.

Dr. Addeke H. Boerma, director-general of the U.N.'s Food and Agriculture Organization, put it this way:

"The rise in prices has two sides to it. Looked at in one way, it benefits exporting countries, not only in the developed, but in the developing world.

"But when it comes to the harmful effects — the increasingly heavier costs of food for ordinary people, the developing countries are much worse off than the developed."

In other words, according to Boerma, the world prices of wheat and other food grains have risen so much that many poor nations cannot afford enough to feed their people.

Boerma, whose comments were in a speech Tuesday night at an International Development conference here, called upon the United States and Russia to support his plan for setting up what he called a "minimum level of world food security," through a buildup of grain reserves to handle future food crisis situations.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has spoken consistently against government-owned "strategic reserves" of grain held back to help act as a buffer against rising food prices.

The U.S. grain supply, Butz has said, would be better left to the private trade and in farmers' hands on a supply and demand basis. Butz says farmers can boost incomes only if a thriving export market is maintained.

Boerma has warned for many months about real and impending hunger in many parts of the world. Record harvests have helped this year, but the relief is only temporary, he says.

Circleville School Board Okays Parent-Teacher Conferences

Among the activities approved by the Circleville City School Board at its regular meeting last night was continuing the policy of parent-teacher conferences.

The theory was tried last year and proved to be a very useful tool in bringing the parents into the system. Over 3100 conferences were held in the three designated days.

Dates of Oct. 30, Dec. 5 and Feb. 7 were approved as conference days for the current school year. Early dismissal of classes on these days was also approved. The conferences on Dec. 5 will run until 8 p.m. to allow parents not usually free during the day to have a chance to meet with the teachers.

Conferences are not held just to discuss problems but to establish good rapport between the parents and schools and exchange information all in the benefit of the child. All parents are eligible for conference and it is an opportunity.

Open House is another instrument used by the city schools to unite the parents with the schools. This custom has been practiced for many years.

September bills were discussed and approved by the board.

A reminder was made to all members of the Ohio School Board Association Convention Nov. 13-15. Approval was made for all board members, the superintendent, and the clerk-treasurer to attend the convention in Columbus. All expenses incurred will be turned into the board when those attending return from the meeting.

An up-to-date report on the Environmental Protection Agency appeal was made by Superintendent Fritz Jacobs. After Jacobs had gone through all the legal channels to get the appeal filed, the EPA has cancelled all payment of operation fees. Those systems which have already paid, however, do not get a reimbursement. Circleville was not among those that had already paid.

Various correspondences and phone calls have resulted from Jacobs' consultation with the State Senator Armstrong and Representative Shoemaker and his filing of the complaint. A representative from the Attorney General's office will meet with the superintendent Friday to review the operation of the incinerator which had been condemned by the EPA. Use of the incinerator will be continued until the appeal is denied.

The board approved purchase of a new bookkeeping machine for the clerk's office since the old one has reached the point where additional repairs would be financially unwise. After consideration of machines developed by the NCR and Burroughs companies, the board decided on the Burroughs machine.

In checking with the state auditor's office, it was disclosed that competitive bidding was not necessary in this instance. The machine to be purchased will cost over $6,100 including the governmental discount and trade-in. The similar NCR machine was nearly $2,000 more costly.

Due to the condition of the old machine which cannot continue to be used, the auditor's office has granted permission for the clerk-treasurer, Miss Mary Ellen Rader, to resort to keeping the books by hand until the new machine is installed.

New legislation enacted by the General Assembly has provided for certification of school nurses. As of Nov. 1, all school nurses must be certified. Mrs. Wanda Matesky, the Circleville school nurse, has already applied for certification. The board voted to treat her as any other certified personnel and will place her on the salary schedule at the time her certification is established.

Additions to the substitute teacher and teacher's aide list were accepted by the board. Mrs. Carolyn Seitz, who recently returned from Ethiopia, was added to the substitute teacher list and Teresa Allen to the teacher's aide list.

Approval was made to proceed with the purchasing of new fire resistant draperies for the multi-purpose room at Atwater Elementary School and the ladies lounge at South Court Street Elementary. The Janson Industries, Canton, have already made estimates for the installed draperies. Total price of the opaque vinyl draperies for the multi-purpose room is $368. Decorative diffusion draperies for the ladies lounge will cost $66.

Also approved was the purchase of an RCA black and white television set for the junior high school. Estimated cost of the special educational model, stand and freight totals $190.75.

Graduation date and time of June 2, 1974 at 2 p.m. on the football field with rain-out date June 2, 1974 at 8 p.m. in the Mill St. gym was approved. Rain-out date has been on another date in the past. This new procedure takes into consideration those relatives traveling from out of town.

A list of 29 personnel was approved to receive travel expenses at the rate of nine cents per mile. Travel will be submitted on standard forms and will be authorized for those not listed but are required by their position to travel within the school district.

Those personnel to receive compensation for travel are: language teachers, Carol Mader, Winifred Breegle and Paula Woodward; music, Candace Cotton, Gary Dean, Paul Dunkle and Linda Eilts; speech and hearing, Lyn Owings; physical education, Maureen Kemper and James Diltz; art, Agnes Burmaster and Karen Rose; kindergarten, Norma Marshall; administration, Donald Metzler and Ralph Ohr; Child accounting, Mary May Yates; vocational, Mary Alice Greenwood, William Rosengarten, Betty Rickey, Nancy Shelton and Vernette Rhodes; special education, James Funk; audio visual, Charma Hughes and John Lawhorn; school nurse, Wanda Matesky; developmental reading, Kathleen Benson, Diane Shubert and Janice Marshall; psychologist, Patricia Southward.

The superintendent will authorize any travel outside the district necessary for the operation of the school system within the appropriation.

The board officially approved the transportation of Melissa Johnson to travel from her home in the Westfall School District to Nicholas Drive School with her school bus driver mother. The child is a tuition student in the city system.

Attendance of Nancy Shelton to the Southwest Regional Home Economics Meeting Oct. 31 at Sharonville and Karen Rose and Agnes Burmaster to the Ohio Art Association Conference Nov. 8 in Columbus was approved.

A discussion was held concerning the in-service meeting held last Thursday. Jacobs and Elementary Supervisor Donald Metzler reported the meeting was attended 100 per cent and was overwhelmingly effective. Three buildings were utilized. The high school teachers heard talks from teacher Wallace Higgins, Superintendent Jacobs and Dr. Adison Dewey from Capital University Law School. Dr. Dewey talked on student's rights and was totally in response of the school's policy.

Activity fund reports, nurse's report and school psychologist's report were submitted to the board for information filing.

Jacobs informed the board of real estate offered by the government to all governmental agencies in the county. State law provides that any time such real property is available, all such agencies are contacted. Since the land adjoins the Lockbourne Air Force Base, the board decided it could be of no significance to the Circleville City Schools.

Discussion was held concerning the unemployment compensation which will be covering all school employees beginning Jan. 1, 1974. The Ohio School Board Association has endorsed, Gates-McDonald, a cost control agency which would handle all claims and relieve the system of the burden of processing claims and guard against overpayment and nonvalid claims. The board decided to gather further information before employing this agency.

A plaque was presented to Jacobs for the Circleville Schools being the first school system to provide automobile driving instruction. The instruction began in 1937 with the first simulator driving instruction initiated by principal Robert H. Terhune.

School bus bids opened today at noon. Thomas and Superior have already submitted bids. Discussion was held on ordering and receiving bids. The board will meet in a brief session Monday at noon to discuss those bids received at that time.

Board members present at last night's meeting were Dale DeLong, Forrest Brown, Tom Elsea and Ruth Kraus. Robert Liggett was excused to attend a professional meeting. Superintendent Jacobs and Donald Metzler were also in attendance.

Convict Man Of Slaying

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Richard B. Glenn has been convicted of first-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of his foster father, a research chemist.

A Criminal Court jury deliberated about five hours Tuesday night before returning the guilty verdict in the Jan. 31, 1972, slaying of Dr. Richard A. Glenn.

The defendant, 28, testified during the trial that he clubbed his father with a fireplace log during an argument in their nearby Mt. Lebanon home over whether he should do household chores.

However, Glenn denied that he intended to kill his father.

The prosecution contended Glenn killed his father because he planned to remarry and thereby disinherit him.

President Misread Public On Cox

WASHINGTON (AP) — At midday Monday, surrounded by the sounds of miscalculation, President Nixon slowly climbed the steep steps of the Executive Office Building.

Often in the past he had bounded up the steps two at a time. But now he was burdened with perhaps the worst crisis of his presidency, and he was heading for his hideaway office to search for a solution.

From Pennsylvania Avenue, 50 yards across the lawn, the President could hear the blaring of automobile horns as motorists responded to a demonstrator's "Honk for Impeachment" sign.

It was a raucous reminder that his earlier decision to seek a compromise on the Watergate tapes — a decision he hoped would bring a national sigh of relief — had instead brought what an aide called "some kind of a nightmare ... a fire storm."

"A miscalculation," his White House counsel now bluntly calls the decision to force through a resolution of the month-long tapes dispute.

Twenty-four hours after his walk up the steps of the office building, Nixon reached another decision. He would capitulate and surrender the Watergate tapes and documents to a federal judge — an abrupt turnaround announced in court Tuesday afternoon.

From presidential aides and other official and unofficial sources, the events leading to Nixon's turnaround can be reconstructed. The sources indicated these were the major factors leading to the President's decision:

—A warning by leading Republicans in Congress that he faced a serious impeachment effort and that even some faithful Capitol Hill followers were reluctant to defend him vigorously so long as he refused to release the tapes.

—A recognition that the public outcry resulting from the firing Saturday night of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox was much greater than had been expected, and that it was overshadowing his agreement to allow limited access to the tapes.

—High level concern that the domestic turmoil was damaging efforts to negotiate an end to the Middle East war and was hurting the President's image as a world leader.

Nixon's decision to turn over the tapes for inspection by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica was made at about noon on Tuesday and came as a stunning surprise to even some of his closest aides. "I was thunderstruck — I couldn't believe it," said one aide, who has in the past prided himself on an ability to read the presidential mind.

Alexander M. Haig Jr., Nixon's chief of staff, was among the few aware of the President's movement toward capitulation on the tapes issue. He said the decision was reached "after very painful and anguishing discussion."

On Monday, Oct. 15, Nixon had decided he would attempt to resolve the tapes issue, which, according to Haig, "had progressively begun to polarize our body politic."

"Lines were clearly being drawn both within the Congress and ... within the viewpoint of the American people themselves," Haig said.

So, as time began running out on Nixon to file his notice of appeal to the Supreme Court, he came up with a compromise: He would personally prepare a summary of the nine tapes, have it verified by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and turn it over to both Judge Sirica and the Senate Watergate committee.

According to presidential aides, it was clear by Thursday that Cox would not go along with the compromise, and Nixon decided Friday morning that "we should attempt to resolve this dreadfully controversial issue ... with or without Professor Cox," Haig said.

Cox announced he would not accept the White House proposal. Cox was fired, Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson resigned, and Deputy Atty. Gen. William D. Ruckelshaus was fired.

First reaction was quick. By the time Nixon awoke Sunday morning, his staff had compiled a 26-page special report tracing reaction in Congress and in the media. The condemnations were harsh, the words of support few.

By Monday morning, Nixon had a 15-page report disclosing that many of the newspapers that had warmly supported his re-election now were vigorously denouncing him editorially.

Some even called for his impeachment or resignation — sentiment expressed later Monday by the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach.

By noon on Monday, it was clear to those close to the President that, as Special Counsel Charles Alan Wright later said, "Clearly, we did miscalculate Friday night."

Nixon spent Tuesday morning in his Oval Office and reached his decision about noon. At 2 p.m., Wright stood before a crowded courtroom and startled the nation by announcing the tapes would be turned over to Judge Sirica.

Assistant Chief Will Keep Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today upheld the appointment of Jerry L. Wymer as assistant fire chief in Findlay, denying a challenge to oust him brought by another firemen.

Edward F. Polen had sought to remove Wymer, claiming that he was entitled to the job on the basis of civil service examinations.

Circleville School Board Okays Parent-Teacher Conferences

Among the activities approved by the Circleville City School Board at its regular meeting last night was continuing the policy of parent-teacher conferences.

The theory was tried last year and proved to be a very useful tool in bringing the parents into the system. Over 3100 conferences were held in the three designated days.

Dates of Oct. 30, Dec. 5 and Feb. 7 were approved as conference days for the current school year. Early dismissal of classes on these days was also approved. The conferences on Dec. 5 will run until 8 p.m. to allow parents not usually free during the day to have a chance to meet with the teachers.

Conferences are not held just to discuss problems but to establish good rapport between the parents and schools and exchange information all in the benefit of the child. All parents are eligible for conference and it is an opportunity.

Open House is another instrument used by the city schools to unite the parents with the schools. This custom has been practiced for many years.

September bills were discussed and approved by the board.

A reminder was made to all members of the Ohio School Board Association Convention Nov. 13-15. Approval was made for all board members, the superintendent, and the clerk-treasurer to attend the convention in Columbus. All expenses incurred will be turned into the board when those attending return from the meeting.

An up-to-date report on the Environmental Protection Agency appeal was made by Superintendent Fritz Jacobs. After Jacobs had gone through all the legal channels to get the appeal filed, the EPA has cancelled all payment of operation fees. Those systems which have already paid, however, do not get a reimbursement. Circleville was not among those that had already paid.

Various correspondences and phone calls have resulted from Jacobs' consultation with the State Senator Armstrong and Representative Shoemaker and his filing of the complaint. A representative from the Attorney General's office will meet with the superintendent Friday to review the operation of the incinerator which had been condemned by the EPA. Use of the incinerator will be continued until the appeal is denied.

The board approved purchase of a new bookkeeping machine for the clerk's office since the old one has reached the point where additional repairs would be financially unwise. After consideration of machines developed by the NCR and Burroughs companies, the board decided on the Burroughs machine.

In checking with the state auditor's office, it was disclosed that competitive bidding was not necessary in this instance. The machine to be purchased will cost over $6,100 including the governmental discount and trade-in. The similar NCR machine was nearly $2,000 more costly.

Due to the condition of the old machine which cannot continue to be used, the auditor's office has granted permission for the clerk-treasurer, Miss Mary Ellen Rader, to resort to keeping the books by hand until the new machine is installed.

New legislation enacted by the General Assembly has provided for certification of school nurses. As of Nov. 1, all school nurses must be certified. Mrs. Wanda Matesky, the Circleville school nurse, has already applied for certification. The board voted to treat her as any other certified personnel and will place her on the salary schedule at the time her certification is established.

Additions to the substitute teacher and teacher's aide list were accepted by the board. Mrs. Carolyn Seitz, who recently returned from Ethiopia, was added to the substitute teacher list and Teresa Allen to the teacher's aide list.

Approval was made to proceed with the purchasing of new fire resistant draperies for the multi-purpose room at Atwater Elementary School and the ladies lounge at South Court Street Elementary. The Janson Industries, Canton, have already made estimates for the installed draperies. Total price of the opaque vinyl draperies for the multi-purpose room is $368. Decorative diffusion draperies for the ladies lounge will cost $66.

Also approved was the purchase of an RCA black and white television set for the junior high school. Estimated cost of the special educational model, stand and freight totals $190.75.

Graduation date and time of June 2, 1974 at 2 p.m. on the football field with rain-out date June 2, 1974 at 8 p.m. in the Mill St. gym was approved. Rain-out date has been on another date in the past. This new procedure takes into consideration those relatives traveling from out of town.

A list of 29 personnel was approved to receive travel expenses at the rate of nine cents per mile. Travel will be submitted on standard forms and will be authorized for those not listed but are required by their position to travel within the school district.

Those personnel to receive compensation for travel are: language teachers, Carol Mader, Winifred Brengle and Paula Woodward; music, Candace Cotton, Gary Dean, Paul Dunkle and Linda Elits; speech and hearing, Lyn Owings; physical education, Maureen Kemper and James Diltz; art, Agnes Burmaster and Karen Rose; kindergarten, Norma Marshall; administration, Donald Metzler and Ralph Ohr;

Child accounting, Mary May Yates; vocational, Mary Alice Greenwood, William Rosengarten, Betty Rickey, Nancy Shelton and Vernetta Rhodes; special education, James Funk; audio visual, Charma Hughes and John Lawhorn; school nurse, Wanda Matesky; developmental reading, Kathleen Benson, Diane Shubert and Janice Marshall; psychologist, Patricia Southward.

The superintendent will authorize any travel outside the district necessary for the operation of the school system within the appropriation.

The board officially approved the transportation of Melissa Johnson to travel from her home in the Westfall School District to Nicholas Drive School with her school bus driver mother. The child is a tuition student in the city system.

Attendance of Nancy Shelton to the Southwest Regional Home Economics Meeting Oct. 31 at Sharonville and Karen Rose and Agnes Burmaster to the Ohio Art Association Conference Nov. 8 in Columbus was approved.

A discussion was held concerning the in-service meeting held last Thursday. Jacobs and Elementary Supervisor Donald Metzler reported the meeting was attended 100 per cent and was overwhelmingly effective. Three buildings were utilized. The high school teachers heard talks from teacher Wallace Higgins, Superintendent Jacobs and Dr. Adison Dewey from Capital University Law School. Dr. Dewey talked on student's rights and was totally in response of the school's policy.

Activity fund reports, nurse's report and school psychologist's report were submitted to the board for information filing.

Jacobs informed the board of real estate offered by the government to all governmental agencies in the county. State law provides that any time such real property is available, all such agencies are contacted. Since the land adjoins the Lockbourne Air Force Base, the board decided it could be of no significance to the Circleville City Schools.

Discussion was held concerning the unemployment compensation which will be covering all school employees beginning Jan. 1, 1974. The Ohio School Board Association has endorsed, Gates-McDonald, a cost control agency which would handle all claims and relieve the system of the burden of processing claims and guard against overpayment and nonvalid claims. The board decided to gather further information before employing this agency.

A plaque was presented to Jacobs for

Convict Man Of Slaying

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Richard B. Glenn has been convicted of first-degree murder in the bludgeoning slaying of his foster father, a research chemist.

A Criminal Court jury deliberated about five hours Tuesday night before returning the guilty verdict in the Jan. 31, 1972, slaying of Dr. Richard A. Glenn.

The defendant, 28, testified during the trial that he clubbed his father with a fireplace log during an argument in their nearby Mt. Lebanon home over whether he should do household chores.

However, Glenn denied that he intended to kill his father.

The prosecution contended Glenn killed his father because he planned to remarry and thereby disinherit him.

President Misread Public On Cox

WASHINGTON (AP) — At midday Monday, surrounded by the sounds of miscalculation, President Nixon slowly climbed the steep steps of the Executive Office Building.

Often in the past he had bounded up the steps two at a time. But now he was burdened with perhaps the worst crisis of his presidency, and he was heading for his hideaway office to search for a solution.

From Pennsylvania Avenue, 50 yards across the lawn, the President could hear the blaring of automobile horns as motorists responded to a demonstrator's "Honk for Impeachment" sign.

It was a raucous reminder that his earlier decision to seek a compromise on the Watergate tapes—a decision he hoped would bring a national sigh of relief—had instead brought what an aide called "some kind of a nightmare... a fire storm."

"A miscalculation," his White House counsel now bluntly calls the decision to force through a resolution of the month-long tapes dispute.

Twenty-four hours after his walk up the steps of the office building, Nixon reached another decision. He would capitulate and surrender the Watergate tapes and documents to a federal judge—an abrupt turnaround announced in court Tuesday afternoon.

From presidential aides and other official and unofficial sources, the events leading to Nixon's turnaround can be reconstructed. The sources indicated these were the major factors leading to the President's decision:

—A warning by leading Republicans in Congress that he faced a serious impeachment effort and that even some faithful Capitol Hill followers were reluctant to defend him vigorously so long as he refused to release the tapes.

—A recognition that the public outcry resulting from the firing Saturday night of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox was much greater than had been expected, and that it was overshadowing his agreement to allow limited access to the tapes.

—High level concern that the domestic turmoil was damaging efforts to negotiate an end to the Middle East war and was hurting the President's image as a world leader.

Nixon's decision to turn over the tapes for inspection by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica was made at about noon on Tuesday and came as a stunning surprise to even some of his closest aides. "I was thunderstruck—I couldn't believe it," said one aide, who has in the past prided himself on an ability to read the presidential mind.

Alexander M. Haig Jr., Nixon's chief of staff, was among the few aware of the President's movement toward capitulation on the tapes issue. He said the decision was reached "after very painful and anguishing discussion."

On Monday, Oct. 15, Nixon had decided he would attempt to resolve the tapes issue, which, according to Haig, "had progressively begun to polarize our body politic."

"Lines were clearly being drawn both within the Congress and ... within the viewpoint of the American people themselves," Haig said.
